Hearing draws outcry for boat reform

ALEC JUNG
Staff Reporter

An estimated 75 people attended an Illinois Senate Hearing regarding boat safety. Most of the people gave testimony in support of increased boating regulation, education and stiffer penalties for drunk boaters.

The hearing was held Sept. 28 at Antioch Village Hall. Sen. Adeline Geo. Karis sponsored Senate Bill 1331 which was the subject of the hearing. The bill would require people to watch a 30-minute video about boat safety before renting a boat, impose a class four felony for those convicted of boating under the influence, require boaters to be at least 16 before operating a boat, and make all children younger than 13 wear a personal flotation device (pfd).

Among the strongest supporters of the bill were Lake and McHenry County officials, straddled with enforcing the heavily traveled Chain O' Lakes and Lake Michigan waters, and Fox Waterway Agency officials.

"It's alcohol, alcohol, alcohol," said Waterway Management Chairman William Dam. "I've been a doctor for 25 years and seen a lot of the patients."

Even Roy Montgomery, vice president of government and industry relations for Mercury Marine, acknowledged alcohol and lack of pfd's as the culprit in most boat

Antioch residents are responding in an effort to save a girl's life and save other people in similar circumstances.

Antioch Rotary Club, Lions Club, Junior Woman's Club, community volunteers and the National Marrow Donor Program are hosting a Marrow Donor Volunteer Screening Saturday, Sept. 28 at St. Peter's Social Center.

"It's been a community effort to work on this thing," noted Ted Axton, a donor himself.

By organizing the drive, Antioch residents aim to add more volunteer donors to the National Marrow Donor Program's Registry. Currently, there are two million donors listed, but there are more than 2,000 searches going See DONORS page A10

A Bavarian tradition is coming to make people forget about the fall weather.

The German American Club of Antioch is sponsoring their version of Oktoberfest. The fun begins at 7 p.m. Saturday, Sept. 28 at the Antioch VFW.

"We have a lot of people who get together just to have fun," said Karl Pokorny of the club.

Pokorny expects about 550 people to come. Dignitaries invited include Congressman Phil Crane, State Sen. Adeline Geo-Karis, and State Majority Leader Robert Churchill.

There will be plenty of food, entertainment and beer. Entertainment is headed by the German Band "Phenix." Pokorny said it is one of the finest bands in the area.

The Edelweiss Dancers from Chicago will perform a series of traditional ethnic favorites.

Tempt your tummy with sauerkraut, German potato salad and wurst. And, of course, beer will be available.

Cash and prize raffles are also planned. Prizes include an $1,800 grandfather clock donated by Chicago Clock, discounts on plane tickets from TWA, and dinner for two at the Jensen House and the Wunderbar.

Oktoberfest was started with the marriage of a Bavarian princess. See FEST page A10

Tiffany first phase approval nears

ALEC JUNG

Staff Reporter

Growth and development continues to push northward.

Heading the current list of new subdivisions is Tiffany Farms, a proposed 414-unit subdivision on a 169-acre tract bordered by North Avenue to the north, Tiffany road to the east and Felter's subdivision to the west.

Antioch Village Board had the first reading of the first phase of the subdivision.

Prices for the homes will range from $125,000 to $250,000.

The student population projections range from 356 students to 900 students. The developer, United Homes, has agreed to pay

$1.3 in impact fees to Antioch Elementary District and Antioch Community High School District. The number of units matches

The Antioch Village board is likely to approve the first phase of Tiffany Farms at the Oct. 7 meeting. Tiffany Farms is a proposed 414-unit subdivision on a 169-acre tract bordered by North Avenue to the north, Tiffany road to the east and Felter's subdivision to the west.

the village's comprehensive plan for the area. The developer could have sought apartment zoning as well and pushed the unit count to 530.

The board is likely to approve the first phase at the Oct. 7 meeting.

The mixed single and multi-family development was recommended by the Plan Commission Sept. 11.

The first phase has 134 units located on the east side of the parcel.

United Homes has met all conditions set forth by the village, village engineer and village planner.

The developer has agreed to fund a traffic study for the site with an eye towards eventually getting a traffic signal at the troubled intersection.

Planning group begins with number crunching

ALEC JUNG

Staff Reporter

The Northwest Educational Planning Group is beginning the search for answers relating to school issues by first taking a look at the development projections.

The group is seeking a single school solution for Antioch Community High School and the elementary districts which send students to the high school. The group also consists of mayors from Antioch, Lake Villa and Lindenhurst and the Antioch and Lindenhurst/Lake Villa Chamber.

The superintendents will meet Oct. 11 with facilitator Dr. Paul Thurston, of the University of Illinois. They will discuss the enrollment projections they have at that time, according to Dr. Dennis Hockney, ACHS superintendent.

Hockney added village officials have a meeting of their own Oct. 15, 6 p.m., at Lindenhurst

Village Hall.

Village officials will take a look at their growth forecasts as well as review where the sewer lines will be going. Officials concede where sewers go the development will come with it.

A combined meeting of all the participants is slated Oct. 29, at 6:30 p.m., at ACHS. Thurston will continue as moderator.

This is the first time communities, chambers and school districts have combined to seek a single school solution. As this area continues to grow, these entities are seeking answers to the impending space crunch.

The group has met for more than a year. The group seeks to get closer to the ultimate solution with each meeting.

The group has not incurred any cost, however, most of the members have agreed to spend some money for future studies if necessary.

ACHS approves budget, boasts technology gains

ALEC JUNG

Staff Reporter

Antioch High School boards approved a budget geared toward improving technology.

The board is planning on a 4.8 percent increase over last year. The board also is projecting a 4.7 percent rise in revenue, according to Bill Ahlers, business manager.

"We are financing our computer lab and expanding our learning center," Ahlers said.

The district almost finished with the computer lab for this school year. Students will also have access to the Internet which is a collection of databases from throughout the world.

Another planned improvement is with the physics and science lab.

"We are modernizing the physics and science lab," Ahlers said.

The district's budget is $19,500,000. The district expects to collect the same amount.

Approximately 57 percent of the budget goes to pay for salaries and benefits, Ahlers noted. That number is significantly lower than many other districts.

"We contract out a lot of our services such as transportation and custodial," Ahlers noted.

The budget is a working guide. It can be amended if the need should arise.

The board held a budget hearing Sept. 19 and then adopted it after the hearing.

Board considers parking limits

ALEC JUNG

Staff Reporter

Antioch trustees are continuing their review of parking ordinances as they relate to oversize and company vehicles.

Trustees are interested in providing a clearer definition of what vehicles can and can't be parked in driveways. One of the key issues is determining what is a commercial vehicle.

"We need to define what is a commercial vehicle," Mayor Marilyn Shineflug said.

Village Attorney Ken Clark said clarifying what is a commercial vehicle, one which would not be permitted, is something he hopes to have ready for the next board meeting.

Clark said some vehicles such as box trucks and vehicles which can't fit in a garage are easy. Establishing what is considered aesthetically inappropriate is difficult.

Trustee Dorothy Larson said most company owned trucks are fine. She said she is concerned with the unsightly trucks.

Clark added one of the most unpopular is the asphalt trucks which can sometimes have ladders and paint cans hanging from the sides.

Staff will continue to research the issue and bring it back to the board for further discussion.

Trustees plan sidewalk repairs

ALEC JUNG

Staff Reporter

Antioch trustees are preparing a sidewalk plan for repair and additional sidewalks for the future.

Village officials are seeking places in the village which need repair or are good candidates to be linked with existing sidewalks. Village Administrator Tim Wells is compiling a list.

Wells said he envisions a two or three-year program. He said the village could likely spend about $20,000 a year. Of that money, $15,000 would be for linkages and another $5,000 for repairs.

Wells indicated he is also interested in areas where sidewalk pavement is crumbling or is uneven.

"That way you will know when a particular sidewalk will be repaired or linked," Wells explained to trustees.

Wells suggested trustees take a look around the village and report back to him. He also is asking residents with thoughts on this issue to call the village at 395-1000.

He added many of the sidewalk issues on Main Street are well known and will be addressed. Another crucial linkage is from Walgreens to across the high school which is also expected to be in the program.

Village officials will discuss the information obtained at the Oct. 21 board meeting.

AUGS choir tries for 'Dreamcoat' role

ALEC JUNG
Staff Reporter

Antioch Upper Grade School Choirs came oh so close to earning a guest role in "Joseph and the Amazing Technicolor Dreamcoat."

The choir was one of the 16 finalists competing for the spot. More than 400 entries were submitted.

"I felt really good about the tape we made," said Catherine Miller, choir director. "It all came together in a short time."

The choir started in August and only had a few rehearsals before the tape was made.

They could choose any two songs and had to sing a portion of 'Dreamcoat.'

The students went to New Trier High School in Northfield for a chance to be in a hit musical.

"It was a lot of fun. The kids just love Donny Osmond," Miller said.

Miller noted the competition was fierce.

"I felt 14 of 16 choirs could have done a terrific job," she said.

She said the students also enjoyed listening to the other choirs and stayed in the afternoon to hear the other choirs.

The choir was also a semifinalist two years for the same musical.

Antioch Upper Grade was the only school from Lake County represented in the semifinals.

Family vigil to mark son's death

The family of a Gurnee man who was killed in an accident involving a drunken driver will gather next week at the accident scene.

The family of 22-year-old Lance Donahue of Gurnee will hold a candlelight vigil at the site, Green Bay Road at Sherman Ave. in Waukegan Township. Michael Hilt, a Navy sailor, will serve six months in jail after being convicted of a drunken driving charge. He had been acquitted of a reckless homicide charge. The sentence was handed down Sept. 19 in Lake County Circuit Court Judge Henty Tonigan's court.

"This is just an outrage - he showed no remorse; no justice was done," Marge Trewnick, an aunt of Donahue's said.

Angela Tagliapietra, Donahue's sister, said the gathering at Casey's Corner will be from 7 to 9 p.m. Oct. 1, one year to the day after the fatal accident.

"He was a self-made man. He had a girlfriend and they planned to get married and have a family of their own. He was bettering himself and going to college. He had so many friends; he would always help you," Tagliapietra, of Kenosha, said.

She said the family has been represented at every court hearing.

A graduate of Warren Township High School, Donahue painted cars for a living at Shepherd Chevrolet.

He received his first motorcycle at age 12 or 13 and always enjoyed tinkering with them, she said.

Hilt had a blood alcohol level of .14 at the time of the incident, above the legal limit of .10.

Donahue was driving home that night.

"We believe the candlelight vigil will bring closure for our parents. We invite the public to come - if you knew Lance or not, or if you have lost a loved one to a drunken driver," Tagliapietra said. —by

Moose offer $500 for burglary leads

ALEC JUNG

Staff Reporter

Antioch Moose Lodge has been burglarized four times since June.

Moose officials and the Lake County Sheriff's Department are becoming increasingly frustrated with these repeated attacks. Fred Chapman, Moose Club member, estimates the damage at about $10,000.

"Each time they break in they take the alcohol and bar snacks," Chapman said.

In addition the burglar(s) break bottles, throw items.

"They have alcohol all over the floor and on the ceiling,"

Chapman said.

Deputy John Crilly of the Lake County Sheriff's Department said the pattern of entry is the same. The offender(s) take coins from vending and amusement machines after breaking in on the west end of the structure.

Chapman noted the last entry was gained by damaging the fire escape and smashing two sliding glass doors.

He estimates the doors cost at least $3,000 a piece.

The lodge is located about two miles west of Antioch on Rte. 173. Moose Club is dedicated to helping seniors and young children.

The club is offering a $500 reward for anyone who presents information which leads to the arrest of the suspect(s).

There are no other incidents in the township related to this case, according to Crilly.

Anyone with any information should contact Crilly, at 360-6300.

Project PASS marks attendance week

Project PASS (The Lake County Center for Dropout Prevention) has invited all Lake County elementary schools to participate in the Eighth Annual Fall School Attendance Week.

During the week of October 7-11, 1996, all participating schools will be promoting school attendance through special activities and projects which they have developed. Local businesses and parent groups may also be called upon to make the event a real community effort.

The ten elementary schools reporting the top attendance average for that week on October 11 will receive special recognition from the Regional Superintendent of Schools, Edward Gonwa.

Schools are able to register and received additional incentive ideas by calling Jan Howes at 223-3400 ext. 223.

Marrow drive

Editor:

Every year, more than 30,000 children and adults in the United States are diagnosed with fatal blood diseases such as leukemia, and aplastic anemia. For many of these adults and children the only hope of survival is a marrow transplant. Seventy percent of those in need of a marrow transplant cannot find suitable donors within their families and many die before finding a matched donor. Many of these people are right here in our community and in our families.

Though these statistics are discouraging, there is something the members of this community can do to help. On Saturday, Sept. 28, there will be a community wide marrow donor drive held at St. Peters Social Center in Antioch. Volunteers are needed to come in and give a small sample of blood, from which their marrow type will be determined and entered in to the Registry of The National Marrow Donor Program. Those who do not meet the medical requirements are needed to volunteer their time or make a donation to defray costs.

They just grow up too fast

There is a young gentleman, Trenton Hartley, who resides in Antioch that turned the big "One" on Sept. 7. Now this spunky kind of guy has been quite the little achiever since day one. At four and a half months he was crawling, by six months he was walking along furniture and by nine months he was cruisin' around on his own two feet like an Olympic runner. Although these noteworthy accomplishments qualified for their own personal entry in the baby book, master Trenton out did even his own achievements at the ripe old age of 11 months.

While visiting the library one day with his mom and grandmother, petite Mr. Hartley managed to get himself and his mom, kicked out of the library because of his disruptive behavior and the fact that he wasn't wearing any shoes or shirt didn't help the situation either. (We all know the rule "No Shirt, No Shoes, No Service.")

Seems the library staff didn't take to kindly to Trenton's obnoxious screeching or his "dia-

pered-only" behind running among the shelved books. Kind of makes you wonder what other notable accolades the youngster will conquer before he reaches school age. If any one knows of an Encyclopedia salesman, you might want to turn him loose at the Hartley household because something tells me Sir Trenton won't be welcomed at the library facility any time too soon if this incident is any indication of his behavior and mode of dress.

Moser Pavillion dedicated

The dedication of the Warren Moser Pavillion at Pederson Park in Antioch drew 67 of the late Mr. Moser's close friends as well as village officials. The dedication was followed by a barbecue and a day at the park. Some of those gathered are: top, from left, Al Anderson, Joe Huber, Keith Church, and Ki Lynn and Marie Vos. Bottom, from left, Steve and Patti Bentel, Tracy and Chris Ano. The Warren Moser benefit committee had been raising funds to send to fulfill a dying man's wish — a trip to Alaska. However, Mr. Moser died before he could fulfill that wish. The funds were then put into a pavillion in his memory.

ACHS gets the spirit with Homecoming

ALEC JUNG
Staff Reporter

It's time again for the community to celebrate Antioch Community High School Homecoming. Many events highlight the "Spirit Week" culminating in the gridiron matchup with arch-rival Warren, Saturday Sept. 28 at 1 p.m.

The week features a different dress up or dress down day depending on your point of view. Monday was hat day, Tuesday was college day, Wednesday was Hawaiian day, Thursday is theme day with each class taking a different decade and Friday everyone should wear cardinal and gray.

A tradition steeped in history continues with "Mr. Antioch," a beauty and talent contest on Sept. 24.

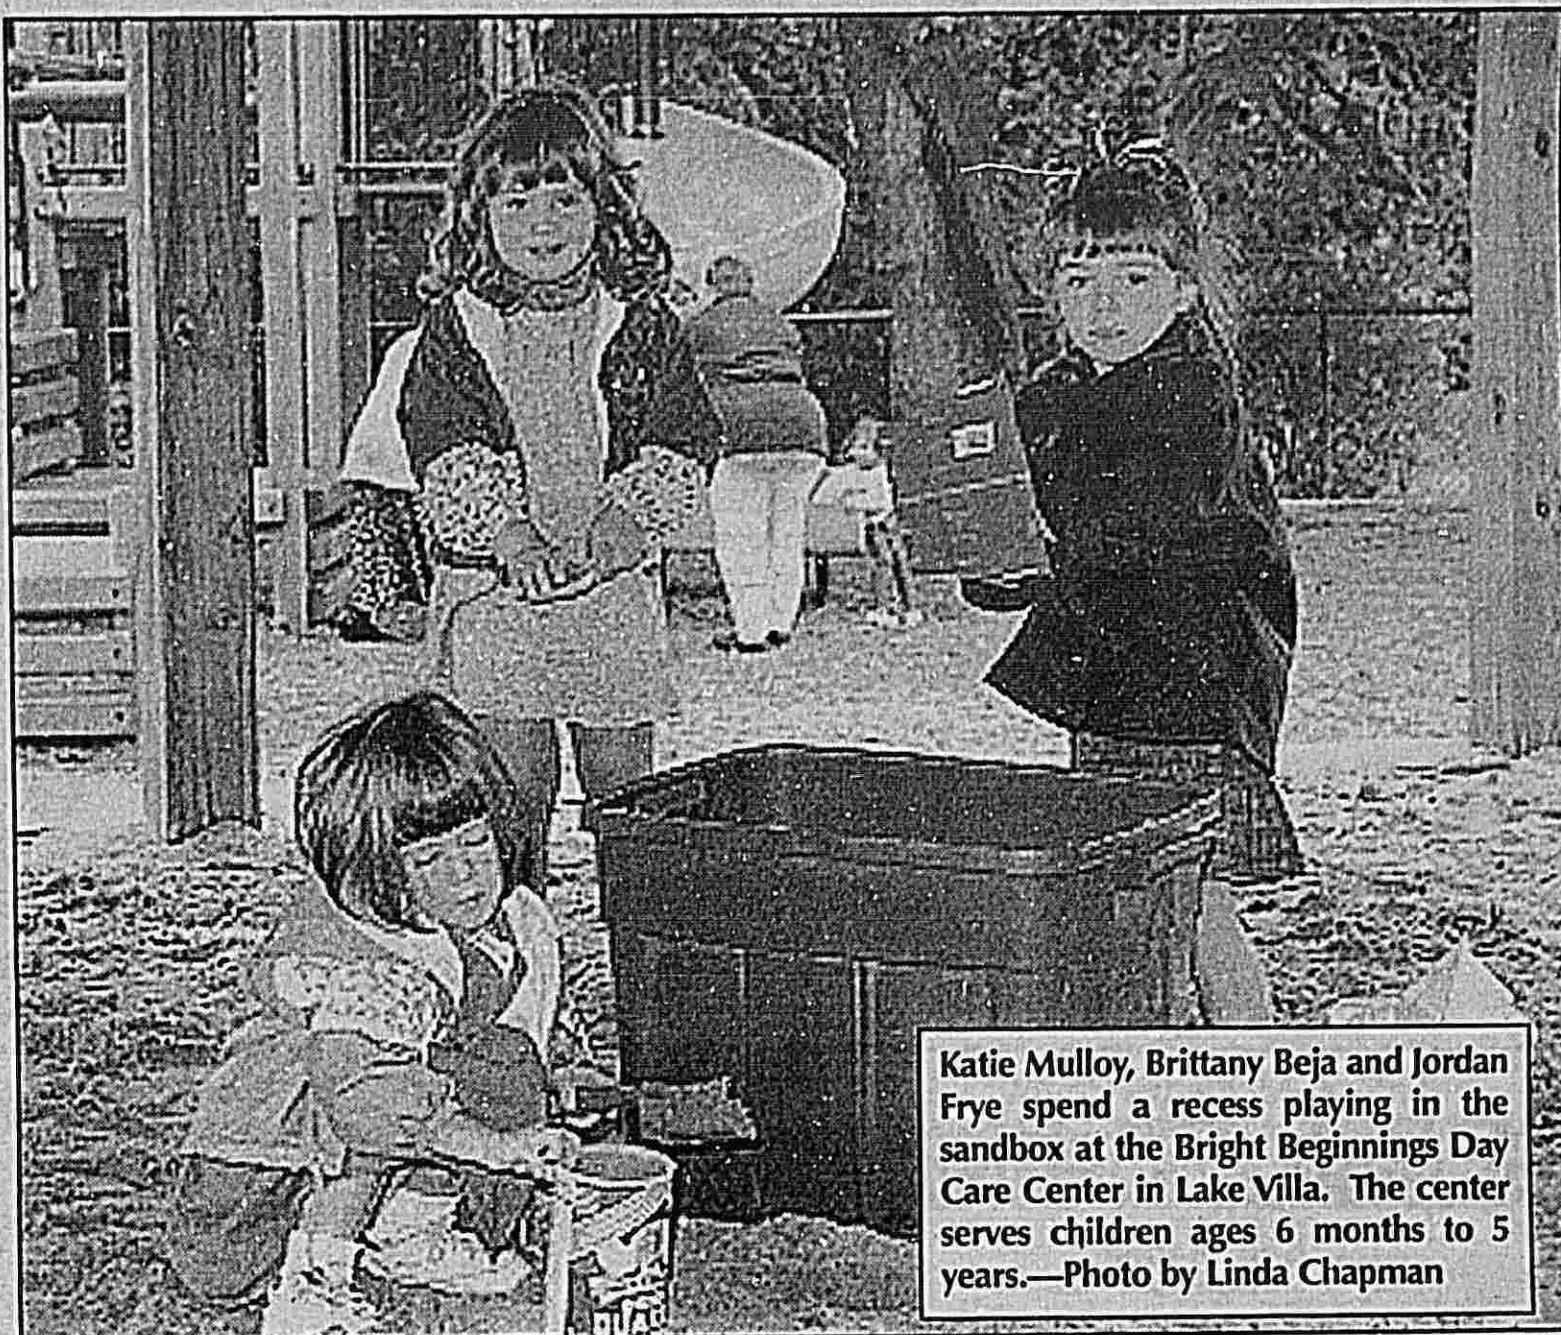

The annual powder puff football game is a big hit with students and faculty alike. The game features the freshmen girls taking on the sophomore girls as well as the junior and senior girls squaring off.

A pep assembly will be held Friday, Sept. 27 at 8 p.m.

For those who like a good old fashioned parade, the school will sponsor a parade on Sept. 28 at 10 a.m. It starts at the high school and ends at Williams Park.

Of course, after the game, there is nothing better than a homecoming dance which will be from 7-10 p.m. at the high school.

For more information about homecoming call the high school at 395-1421.

Voice of Democracy scholarships available

ALEC JUNG
Staff Reporter

Want a crack at a scholarship? Look no further than the Antioch VFW Post 4551 and Ladies Auxiliary.

The VFW is once again offering the Voice of Democracy Scholarship. The scholarship is open to all Antioch area high school students, sophomores to seniors.

To qualify, students write an essay on America and their commitment to the future.

This year's theme is "Democracy-Above and Beyond." Students should write why they feel Democracy is better than other forms of government.

The program is completely funded by the VFW and costs nothing to participate.

For years, the VFW has presented thousands of dollars to deserving students.

Local, district, state and national awards are available. National awards are now totaling $118,000 with a first place prize of $20,000.

Students from the entire district area are eligible for this contest. Typically, at least one student will win.

For more information call Chuck Hamlin at 395-5393 or 395-0623.

Bright Beginnings Children's Center is open for business and ready to serve Northwest Lake County.

The state-of-the-art facility has many attributes to help children learn and grow. The building was designed for the children's convenience.

"We are not here to take the place of a family, we are here to support the family," said Director Kathy Delassus.

That support includes getting to know the parents and assist them in bringing up their children.

"The most important thing we can do is to gain the trust of parents," Delassus said.

Besides daily contact with teachers, there is a monthly newsletter from the director and weekly newsletters from the teacher.

The center serves children aged six months to 5 years of age. Programs include full-day child care and half-day preschool.

Bright Beginnings has six rooms and a multipurpose play area and meeting room, with features at child level.

Central Baptist Children's Home owns Bright Beginnings. The home specializes in foster care and family support programs. They also own five other preschools. Many of the design features that made sense were incorporated into this facility.

The playground includes slides and climbing apparatus and a simulated train.

"The children get so excited when they here the real train," Delassus said.

Delassus stressed the curriculum is not religious based. She said the school is open to all residents. So far most of the parents are from Antioch, Lake Villa and Wisconsin areas.

The center is open Monday-Friday from 6:15 a.m.- 6 p.m. It is located at 215 Milwaukee Avenue.

For more information call Delassus at 356-4112.

ORTHOTIC DEVICES

Injuries and diseases aren't the only causes of foot problems. A podiatrist may find the cause is a deviation that interferes with normal foot performance. Flat or excessively arched feet are examples. So is ankle movement that makes the foot pronate, or roll inward, while walking.

Orthotic devices are a means of correcting the way the foot works, sometimes by redistributing the weight placed on the foot or by preventing it from rolling inward.

To provide a customized device, the podiatrist first makes a plaster cast of the foot and the device then is molded to the right shape and size to serve in a particular area between the shoe and the foot. Some orthotic devices are made from natural materials such as rubber or cork, and some from plastic or other synthetic materials.

Walkathon to benefit Canine Companions

Come on out with a dog and have a screaming good time at the Fourth Annual Howl-O-Ween Walkathon on Saturday, Oct. 19. This 3-4 mile pledged walk with "trick or treat" stops for both dog and owners will take place at the Twin Lake Recreational Area located at 1200 E. Lake Drive in Palatine.

The event will begin with registration from 10 to 10:30 a.m., and the walk taking place from 10:30 a.m. to 12 p.m.

Following the walk, festivities will include lunch, music, costume contests for both people and dogs, raffle prizes and an awards ceremony.

Pledge forms and further information can be obtained at participating PetCare stores or by calling 559-9346. All walkers collecting $50 or more will receive a water bottle, goodie bag, bandanna and raffle ticket for a chance to win more! More giveaways will be awarded to walkers who collect higher increments of money. Top earners will receive a year's supply of dog food. The overall top pledge earner from all Midwest dog locations wins an autographed Snoopy cartoon strip from Charles Schultz.

Proceeds from the events will benefit Canine Companions for Independence (CCI), a national nonprofit organization that trains dogs to assist individuals with disabilities other than blindness. These special dogs increase their partner's independence by performing a variety of tasks, such as turning lights on and off, pulling wheelchairs, and retrieving dropped items. Although each dog costs well over $10,000 to breed, raise and train, they are provided virtually free of charge to those who are in need. With a Canine Companion, people with disabilities are able to attend school or college, pursue a career, or raise a family much more independently. There are several people in the Chicago area enjoying the increased independence a Canine Companion provides, as well as many other Illinois residents on the list waiting to receive one. So come out and join in the spirited fun!

Late Show to hold stupid pet trick auditions

The Late Show with David Letterman will hold auditions for all talented pets and people in Chicago on Saturday, Oct. 19 and Sunday, Oct. 20 for a chance to appear on two of the program's most popular segments, "Stupid Pet Tricks" and "Stupid Human Tricks." Following the successful Stupid Pet and Human Trick auditions held this year in San Francisco and Philadelphia, the Late Show is now seeking all talented pets and people in the Chicago area.

The Tricks selected from the auditions will be invited to perform their unusual talent in front of millions of TV viewers on the Late Show with David Letterman in the coming months.

To qualify for an audition, you or your pet's trick must be fun, unique and safe. Animals must perform voluntarily and be treated humanely. All types of animals are welcome.

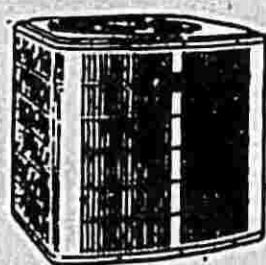

Past tricks have included a horse that fetches and drinks a bottle of water from the refrigerator, a dog that simultaneously caught numerous rings around its neck and a football between his paws while sitting upright, a cat that says "yum, yum," and dogs that attacked a bathroom scale and pinball machine. Human tricks have ranged from a kid jumping rope while on a pogo stick to a man blowing a smoke-filled soap bubble out of his ear.

To participate in the Chicago Stupid Pet and Human Trick auditions, call the following special phone number set up by WBBM-TV in Chicago; (312) 255-9226.

The Late Show with David Letterman is broadcast in Chicago on WBBM-TV, Channel 2 on weeknights at 10:35 p.m.

Reform

programs.

"It doesn't make sense when you look at the statistics," Montgomery noted. "Most people are responsible."

"Most people are responsible boaters, but it's the crazies we have to legislate to," said state Sen. Dick Klemm.

Donna Schaefer, McHenry County board member, stressed stiffer drunk boating laws such as stopping for reasonable suspicion, a lower need than probable cause will enhance enforcement efforts.

William Gossert of the National Transportation Safety Board, the government agency responsible for studying accidents, stressed the importance of tough alcohol enforcement and children wearing pfd's

"Alcohol was related in 37-80 percent of the boating fatalities," Gossert said.

He also mentioned an estimated 85 percent of people killed in boating accidents might be alive today if they had only worn a pfd.

Another key provision of the bill is to separate the distance between boats from the current reasonable distance to 150 feet.

The 16 year-old age limit was endorsed by Antioch Lake County Board Member Judy Martini.

"I strongly agree people under 16 shouldn't be alone operating a boat considering the high speeds," Martini said.

Martini mentioned she lives at Nippersink Lake near where three of the lakes converge and has seen many near accidents.

Geo-Karis questioned why manufacturers don't install headlights on water craft.

Law enforcement officials stressed they needed more funding to adequately police boating regulations.

Round Lake Trustee John Huebner suggested creating laws designed for different lake sizes. He stressed Round Lake is becoming increasingly dangerous on the weekends.

Round Lake Park Trustee John Teubert recommended the boat owners be required to get licensed and pass a skills test.

searches going on at one time.

Organizers are also hoping to find a match for Antioch resident Rachei Lugo who is afflicted with leukemia.

The chances of finding a match are one in 20,000. To make it an even chance of finding someone who matches, you would need 40 million donors in the national registry," Axton said.

Donors increase the odds of finding a successful bone marrow transplant for someone suffering from leukemia or other fatal blood diseases.

For many people suffering from fatal blood diseases, a bone marrow transplant from a matched marrow donor is the only hope.

Already the number of volunteers has surpassed the goal and the hours for walk-ins have been extended. The walk-in hours are from 10 a.m.- 2 p.m. For more information call 395-1309.

ACHS girls at home on Warren's course

STEVE PETERSON

Tracy Denaro found another course to her liking, and the Stevenson High girls cross country team found the top five in the Warren invitational.

Denaro, a sophomore, was the first Stevenson runner and led the entire 20-team field with a time of 11 minutes, 41 seconds on the two-mile course. She won the race by 10 seconds.

"I like the course - it is longer and I felt pretty strong throughout," Denaro said.

"Tracy ran extremely strong. This was her best race of the year. They all ran with intensity, a sense of purpose," Stevenson coach Hank Andrew said.

Antioch's Liana Rothermel lost a last second lunge to Cary's Jenny Moller for fourth place.

Grayslake had two runners and Warren one in the medal winning top 15.

Joanne Reiland was 13th for the Rams and Michele Tessman was 14th, in 12:24 and 12:29, respectively.

"We told Joanne to go out and run as good as she could in the race. This should be a real confidence booster. It shows what they have to do to do compete against the best," Rams coach Joel Peebles said.

Crystal Lake Central ran away with the meet at Warren Township Center with 39 points. Antioch led area runners with a second-place 101, followed by Waukegan with 126 and Stevenson with 146. Grayslake finished in the top 10 with 239.

Shane Jacobsen was 18th in 12:34; "Mouse" Barbic was 22d in 11:38; Colleen McCandless was 33d in 13:02 just beating Lauren Stefuberg for Antioch.

Antioch, 4-0 in duals, received a "wake-up" call from Lake Forest, as the Sequoits squeezed out a one-point win.

After Denaro's effort, Brittanie Bennett had a 12:59, Lynn Shaefer a 13:25; soph Kristine McGuinn a 13:04; Marni Polakow a 13:03; senior Dana Mondo a 13:10 and Stephanie Schultz a 13:11. Stevenson, like Antioch, is 4-0 in duals.

Junior Liz Lukacs paced the home Warren team with a 12:30 time.

Murphy leads lady linkers, gains 6th win at tourney

The Antioch High girls golf team extended the dual win streak to five this past week with a seven-stroke win over Westosha Central.

The Sequoits prevailed 200-207 at Bristol Oaks Country Club.

Lisa Murphy led the way with a 45 and also was sixth at the Antioch Invite later in the week.

"She played a good, strong tournament and stayed out of big trouble," Antioch coach Steve Wapon said.

Against Westosha, Sarah Rackow had a 50; Kacy Sehmer did as well; Angie Pederson carded a 51; Brittany Cable a 58 and Abby Clark a 60. Antioch is 5-1.

The junior varsity won 222-258. Sarah Groh was meadlist with a 51; Veronica Pasanin had a 56; DeAnne Dalgaard a 57; Marissa Blasko a 58; Dana Spandet a 58 and Kristin Hungarland a 59. The JV team is also 5-1.

The junior varsity team won their second consecutive quadrangular with a par 54 at Rayond Heights golf course. The 18 hole Sequoit score of 319 was good enough to edge out Waukegan 322; Boylan's 327; Horlick's 360 and Westosha Central's 374. Pazanin's 75 was the medalist honors for the tournament. Other Antioch medal winners were: Dana Spandet's seventh place, 81; Sarah Groh's eighth place 81; Shemer's ninth place 82; Hungarland's 11th place 83; Cable had an 87 and Jackie Anderson a 92.

The varsity Sequoits were sixth with 427 shots at their own meet on Saturday. Libertyville and Boylan tried with a 387.

Murphy's 48-47 for 95 was good enough for sixth place.

"We came in with a front-9 team score of 199, and slipped to a back-9 score of 232. The 33 stroke drop likely cost us three places in the team standings. I think we lost our composure and a certain amount of confidence we got into major trouble in a couple of holes. This will make for an interesting area of focus on this week in practice," Wapon said.

Warren-Antioch rivalry heats up for ACHS Homecoming

STEVE PETERSON

Staff Reporter

Two teams coming off last-second defeats and intense rivals at that will be a marquee match in the North Suburban Conference's fifth week of action.

Warren High (0-4, 0-3 NSC) will visit Antioch Sept. 28 at 1 p.m. for a Homecoming clash. Zion-Benton edged Antioch 22-21 in overtime while Warren lost a heartbreaker in the final two minutes of a 13-12 loss at Bremen.

"We showed a lot of improvement - even over last week (a win over Chicago Harlan), but we have still a long way to go," Antioch coach Del Pechauer said.

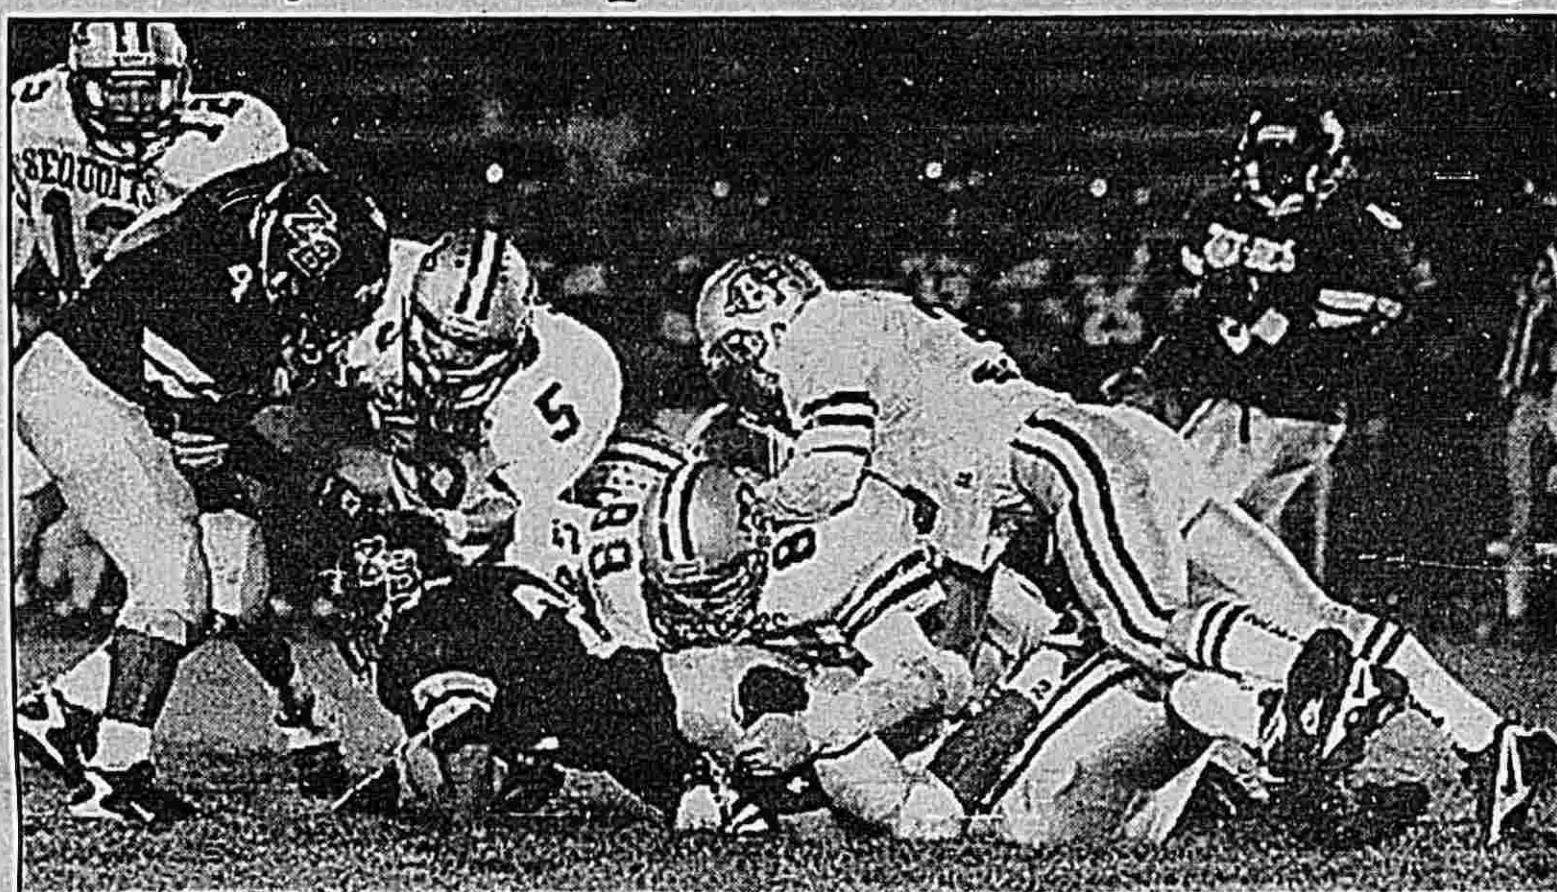

Pechauer said he was pleased with his team's overall effort against Zion. The game came down to a two-point conversion try as Antioch called Joe Day's number.

"We had the kid blocked, but he lunged at the Joe's ankle and grabbed his knee," Pechauer said.

This followed a Day run from 5 yards out.

Zion scored its winning touchdown as Josh Adams ran for the most important two yards of his 120 yard night.

"We were able to move the ball against them as the running game worked well. We only threw the ball nine times," Pechauer said.

Brandon Polheber was a key cog in the Antioch running game. His run from 2 yards out followed a Zion fumble in the waning moments Friday.

Polheber finished with 131 yards, Grace 97 and Day 74 in a balanced attack.

Antioch had its early chances, but key penalties and a turnover let Zion take a 14-0 halftime lead.

Pechauer knows Warren's 0-4 record reflects its early season strong schedule.

"They played the top three teams in the conference - Stevenson, Lake Forest and Libertyville and the team picked to win its league in pre-season," Pechauer said.

One sidelight to the game will be that Reggie Hughes Jr. will be punting against Dad's team for the first time. Hughes, the punter, had another strong game against Harlan with many over 30-yards and a strong second half against Zion.

"It'll be different," mom Diane Hughes, a Warren High teacher, said.

Most Antioch-Warren Homecomings usually are.

ACHS spikers find young stars at Stevenson meet

Two key players were missing, but Antioch High's girls volleyball team did have its bright spots in winning one of five matches at Stevenson's tournament.

"There were some positives and negatives - there was a lot of good experience for a lot of people," Antioch coach Gwen Varney said.

'This was our sixth match in 24 hours - the kids were exhausted but made the plays that they needed to.'

Gwen Varney

The highlight of the tourney was a 15-7, 15-12 win over Grayslake.

"This was our sixth match in 24 hours - the kids were exhausted but made the plays that they needed to," Varney said.

Senior Jenny Cardis was named all-tournament and for good reason. she had 35-of-39 in serving with 7 aces and 21 points. She was 58-of-62 at the net with 19 kills. Carrie Kowalczyk was 33-of-33 serving with 4 aces and 10 points.

The Sequoits were without Carrie Gofron, who was out with an Achilles tendon. Soph Amy Carlberg was called up and did a good job as an all-around player, Varney said.

Carlberg may be seeing more playing time with numbers like this: 5 assists, 16 points serving and 12 kills.

The Sequoits lost to Stevenson 15-2, 15-8; to eventual champ Joliet 15-3, 15-3; and to Elk Grove 11-15, 15-10, 13-15. "We were up 12-6 in the third game but could not put them away," Varney said.

Antioch, 5-11 overall, battles North Suburban Conference power Lake Forest Sept. 27.

Antioch's Jennifer Gussarson sets the ball while Jennifer Cardis is ready to spike it to Richmond. Antioch won the contest 7-15, 15-6 and 15-11. The Sequoits are 5-11 overall and face Lake Forest Sept. 27. — Photo by Steve Young

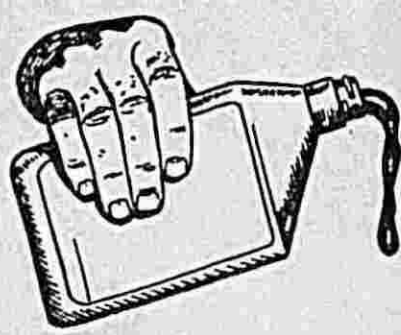

The Typhoons drop game

The Typhoons traveled an hour and a half south to the edge of the plains in Naperville for two soccer games on Sunday. In the first game, the Naperville Lightning gave the U-9 boys team their first loss of the season, outscoring the Typhoons 3-2. The Typhoons were the first to score when Nick Pietka took a punt from goalie Trevor Hall at mid-field, and with his signature game faced determinism. Nick dribbled through three Naperville defenders like cones on the practice field before netting the ball in the right side of the goal.

After a 1-1 half-time score, the Typhoon defense let down, leaving goalie Kyle Kozuch fully exposed to not one but two Lightning strikes before the end of the third period. Early in the fourth quarter, Alex McKenzie brought the Typhoons within range of victory through a great individual effort in which he first deflected a Lightning attack and then took the ball nearly the length of the field for a score. Late in the fourth quarter, the Typhoons were pressing hard for a tie with several shots on goal but there just wasn't enough time for a score.

The Typhoons faced a more skilled opponent in their second game against the Fox Valley Kickers. Like the Typhoons, the Kickers have several skill players who are supported by a hard working and well coached team. In the first half of play, Typhoon goalie Erick Voight showed the coverage of professionals when on several occasions he put his body on the line to absorb the attacks of the Kickers.

The half ended as the game did at 1-0, the only score coming from Alex McKenzie on a penalty shot because of a hand ball violation. After tallying a mark in each of the won/loss columns, the Typhoons returned to Lake County wind-blown and dust-covered but nonetheless happy to play.

Youth Football Homecoming this weekend

The Antioch Vikings Youth Football celebrates its 26th season this weekend hosting Highland Park Little Giants at their annual homecoming games. The Pee Wees will Kick off action at 9 a.m. Sunday at the Antioch High School field. Additionally, the Flag Football League will be in action throughout the day Sunday. All program Alumni and friends are urged to attend.

The Viking Heavyweights remain unbeaten after three League games. They stopped the McHenry Hornets 34-6, breaking away from a 6-0 half time lead. Running back Alan Rapinchuk opened the scoring in the first half and added a second TD on a 14 yard scamper in the third quarter. Additionally, the Vikings were sparked by a spirited performance by back Rob Lodesky who had an 8 yard TD run and touchdowns by Scott Hodina and a TD pass from QB Ian Lampe to Chris Rogalla. The defensive unit played a standout second half after a sluggish first two quarters.

Running back Chris Romano scored three touchdowns on runs of 13, 12 and 8 yards in leading the Lightweights to their third win of the year and sole possession of first place. They recorded their third shutout of the year 27-0 over the previously unbeaten McHenry Hornets Sunday.

The teams battled on an equal basis in the first half, but key offensive and defensive adjustments in the second half was a key to the win. Bobby Grasser scored the fourth Viking TD on a one yard plunge with extra points by Mark Purnell and Bill Damron. Matt Elliott was a standout on the Viking kickoff team and the defense was led by Grasser's 13 tackles. Mike Smith had eight tackles along with eight from defensive end Chris Wold and six tackles from defensive tackle Billy Merker.

The Antioch Raider Featherweight team was successful in their showdown for first place in the American Conference of the Junior Football League of Northern Illinois with an impressive 32-0 shutout over McHenry their third shutout of the year. The Hornets huge front line was out manned by Raider blockers Tom Stempian, Beau Biller, Sam Carden. Travis Mumm and Tom Wolter who consistently opened large holes for the Raider backs.

Back Brett Bairstow scored two TD's on runs of 38 and 17 yards. Chris Orozco also scored a pair of TD's on runs of 20 and 92 yards. And QB Brent Domel scored from 52 yards out. A tough defensive unit was led by Brian Peters, Scott Gehrke, Adam Lehn, Willie DeBoard as they turned in their third shutout of the year.

The Viking Pee Wees battled McHenry evenly, but a missed extra point was the difference in their 7-6 loss Sunday. The game was scoreless mid way through the second half, when Taylor Pechauer returned a McHenry punt 45 yards and a TD. But McHenry scored on the following kick off and went ahead on their successful extra point play. Luke Seznov played a great offensive game for Antioch who got standout defensive performances from Derrick Hartmann and Chris Pollack.

Lindenhurst Rockets win their second of the season

The Lindenhurst Rockets posted their second win of the season with a 2-1 victory over the Orland Park Strikers. The Rockets scored early in the first half when Becky McBrady and Kacie Anderson set up Tina Washburn for the goal. The Strikers came back three minutes later to tie the score at 1-1.

The Strikers failed to take the lead later in the half when they didn't score on a penalty kick. Elizabeth Martin, playing goalie for the Rockets, covered up the ball when it hit the crossbar and dropped in front of the goal. The Rockets were able to take the lead in the middle of the second half when Katie Malcolm set up Lissa Coby for the winning goal. Solid defensive play by Kristen Gagne, Katie Lincoln and Lori Knupp shut down the Striker offense for the remainder of the game to preserve the victory.

Rockers Girls U-12

The Rockers played their first game at Polley field and battled the visiting Wheaton Wings to a 0-0 tie. Lauren Cole and Erin Jouppe shared the shutout in goal with help from a strong defense led by Robyn Mortenson, Beth Fries, and Tanya and Felisha Gapinski. Both teams are to be commended for their effort and sportsmanship in the hard fought contest. The Rockers travel to Wheatland Sunday to take on the Team Chicago Thunder.

Power Girls U-17

The Lindenhurst Power defeated Lake Forest JPS 2-0 in last Sunday's action. Sarah Richardson scored first after taking a through pass from Jamie Wismer and making a well placed shot into the lower right hand corner of the net. Wismer made it 2-0 when she took a header pass from Lauren Beatty and tapped it into the left hand corner under the diving JPS keeper. The mid-field and defensive play of Emily Bernabe, Nicci Estep, Kristen Gamlin, Shayne Jacobsen and Jourdan Phillips controlled the middle of the field and kept Lake Forest from mounting any scoring threats through most of the game. The Power is now 2-0 on the season.

Olson's big day paces Rams to .500

Jason Olson led the offense and the defense had a steady effort as Grayslake matched pre-Northwest Suburban Conference expectations.

The Rams crushed Immaculate Conception 35-7 as Olson rushed for 220 yards. The Rams begin NWSC play as they host their 50th Homecoming when Grant visits at 1 p.m. Sept. 28.

"The offensive line played well in the second half. We played to their level," Rams coach Dan Dillon said.

The Rams led only 7-0 at half-time but that was before Olson really got going. He scored on runs of 10, 20 and 38 yards. He proved to be a strong runner to bring down via the arm tackle.

The Rams topped the 300-yard mark offense with 314 against the winless Knights. Joe Kane was the second-leading rusher with 38 yards in 4 tries.

The defense accounted for the only non-Olson touchdown as Don Reyes returned a pick for 45 yards.

Paul Grace had 8 tackles and a half-a-sack and Bob Clifford had 6 tackles and one for a three-yard loss and a fumble recovery. "He did a nice job," Dillon said.

The Rams bring a .500 record into the historic Homecoming clash.

"Optimistically, it would have been nice to win them all. We played a great Cary-Grove team and scored 19 points against them in the second half. We felt we would do a much better job against Marmion (a 52-6 loss). But this is the best we have ever done before the conference season," Dillon said.

Dragsters tear up speedway, but they can't drive automobile

MICHAEL H. BABICZ

Correspondent

Sit down. Strap in. Grab the steering wheel. Put the peddle to the floor. Feel the power of the 5 HP lawnmower engine?

Stop the presses.

No, this is not a misplaced lawn and garden section article. This is about a Lake Villa family with a fast hobby.

The LaMont family junior team from Lake Villa includes Ryan, a Antioch High School sophomore, Chad, who attends Pleviak School in Lake Villa, along with mom, Carolyn, and dad, Pat, is actually a three-driver team.

Dad, Pat, competes in Super-Comp Altered Drags himself and makes sure the boy's car is kept running and together.

"I wanted to make sure it was safe," said Carolyn, echoing the major concern of all of the parents. "Now I'm there for moral support and basically, to keep the family together as it can get kind of hectic when dad's racing the same day."

Both Lamont brothers are active in Tae Kwon Do, with Ryan holding a red belt and Chad a blue. Ryan has competed in the Lindenhurst Park District soccer league, but drooped to concentrate on his racing.

Ryan's 1994 Spitzer with a 5 HP Pure Power Briggs & Stratton Alcohol-fueled engine is sponsored by the family business, LaMont Automotive, along with New Reflections Auto Detailing, Bruce Ladewig Motorsports and Nielsen Enterprises, all of Lake Villa.

This past August, Ryan advanced to the third round at the National Championships in Ennis, Texas placing in the final 16 of 70 entries from throughout the U.S. Ryan is closing in on the season championship at Great Lakes Dragaway as the year nears an end.

Chad has been racing two years, having begun driving at age 8. Crediting his big brother with planting the seed, Chad says "It looked like fun and it is fun. With my new motor, I'm going a lot faster, but I'm never scared. Mom thought I'd be scared, but I've gone over 62 MPH and it doesn't bother me."

With a couple of runnerup finishes and four times making the finals, Chad is still searching for the coveted first victory.

Having an interest in soccer, basketball and ice-less hockey, Chad is trying to keep time for the conventional sports in addition to his interest in motorsports.

All of the junior drag racers have taken an active role in promoting themselves and their sport.

Ryan and Chad, who switch off driving the same car so they have not raced each other yet, took first at the BARS show this past spring and also received Best Appearing Car honors at the World Of Wheels Show held at McCormick Place in Chicago this year.

The thoughts of all of them family members are summed up by Carolyn LaMont. "They have fun, and that's what counts."

Wilmot Speedway crowns on the line in final season action

A pair of Wilmot Speedway season championship crowns have come down to the final night of racing. When Jim Moulis of Fox Lake, Ill. and Joe Kristan of Beach Park, Ill. take the track on Sept. 28, only four-points will separate them for the season championship. Jim Moulis, a two-time Wilmot Champion, holds a four-point lead going into the final night of the Budweiser Racing Series Sprint car battle over Joe Kristan who is seeking his first ever track championship. These two drivers have had a see-saw battle the past two months with the point lead flip-flopping back and forth. It all comes down to the last night of racing and probably the last race of the season now since the Saturday, Sept. 21 races were washed out just before the sprint 'B', leaving them still locked together.

"This is great, going down to the final night," said Moulis, "Running side by side with Joe has been a lot of fun for me. I hope its been as much fun for the fans as it's been for me." Kristan echoes Moulis' thoughts as he looks forward to a great night of racing.

The other championship coming down to the final night will feature a 16 year old high school sophomore, Eric Rosemann of Antioch, and a dentist, Dr. Ken Johnson of Paddock Lake, Wis., chasing Phil Schultz, a 19 year old bus driver from Silver Lake, Wis. Only 13 points separate these three drivers and, like the sprint battle, it more then likely will all come down to the final race to determine the championship.

The only sure thing for the Sept. 28 program is that, Kenosha's own Dennis Spitz has clinched his first ever Wilmot Modified Championship as he holds an insurmountable lead, 493-417, over second place Tommy Sexton of Antioch. Congratulations go out to Dennis who is a regular competitor in both the modifieds and the sprint divisions at the speedway. Sexton, a first year Modified driver, has a 16 point lead over third place Brian Van Scoy of Frankville, Wis.

The Budweiser Sprint Car series championship night has 26 cars 'qualified' for the event. The top 18 drivers are 'locked' into the feature spots pre-determined by their current point standings and with the traditional six car invert, Moulis and Kristan will start side-by-side in row three. The remaining eight qualified drivers will compete in a 'B' main with the top two finishers advancing to the main event to complete the starting grid of 20 cars. The 26 'qualified' cars will time trial to determine heat line-up positions with the top eight in time and the top four in the heats getting points putting more pressure on both Moulis and Kristan as their battle draws down to the wire.

Before the rains came on Sept. 21, both Moulis and Kristan were in the fourth sprint heat, with Don Durham holding off a late charge by Kristan for the win and Moulis out-batting his nephew, Dave Moulis, and the nights fast qualifier, Todd Daun, to finish fourth in the final transfer spot. In the heat, Kristan picked up six points to two points for Moulis, thus erasing an earlier four point gain Moulis had received for qualifying fifth for the nights event. Kristan was shut out of points in time trials, finishing ninth among another excellent field of 39 sprints.

Fan Appreciation Nights continue Saturday Sept. 28 with G&G Trucking/STI sponsoring the Season Championship event for the Budweiser Sprint cars, Glen Hepfner Inc. sponsoring the Modified Championship event and Cycle Empire sponsoring the Mini-Modified Championship event. First race is at 7 p.m. with the gates opening at 5 p.m. and time trials at 6:15 p.m.

WHY REPLACE LOST TEETH?

When teeth are lost, they should be promptly replaced. There are exceptions to this rule as "wisdom teeth", but the rule applies to virtually all other teeth. For most people, appearance is the most important reason. Gaps left by missing teeth are unsightly, and the mouth is likely to look caved in and collapsed. Deep creases may form at the outer corners of the mouth, which often leads to an inflammation and makes you look older. Even more important are function disorders. Missing teeth affect your chewing ability, cause your bite to be out of balance and may result in pain in the jaw's hinge joint. Damage to the remaining teeth becomes more likely. Perhaps most serious of all are misalignments. If teeth are deprived of the support and restraint of adjacent teeth, they will rotate, tip, or shift. In addition, when teeth don't meet opposing teeth, they may grow out too far, causing a whole new set of problems.

THIS WEEK'S GAMES

POWER POINTS OFFICIAL RULES

- Object of the game is to amass as many of the 136 possible points as you can. Simply review the week's schedule of games, listed on entry form, and decide which game you are surest of picking a winner in. Write the name of your projected winner on the 16-point line. If that team wins its game that week, you win 16 points. Write the name of your second-surest winner on the 15-point line, and so on down to the 1-point line, which game you figure to be a loss-up. Next, fill in Tiebreaker 1, the total points scored by both teams in the week's Bears, Rams or Illinois game. If this step fails to produce a winner, the judges will apply Tiebreaker 2, total offensive yardage from scrimmage in this game. If a winner still doesn't emerge, a drawing will be held among those contestants still tied. Decisions of the judges are final. The weekly winner of the contest will receive $1,000.
- Any entry form that does not contain a legible name, address, etc., will be disqualified.
- Entries that fail to forecast a winner from each and every game will be disqualified, as will entries that fail to distinguish between the Jets and Giants of New York and Pitt and Pittsburgh.
- No points are awarded on tie games or in case any game is not played for any reason during its scheduled week.
- Entering POWER POINTS constitutes permission by contestant for his or her name and photograph to be used for news and reasonable promotional purposes at no charge.
- Employees of this newspaper and their immediate families are ineligible to participate.
- Any inquiry about or protest of weekly results must be made by Noon on the Friday following the announcement of winners.
- No purchase necessary. Facsimile game entry forms will be accepted. Enter contest by dropping entry form into POWER POINTS container at participating co-sponsors.
- Weekly deadline for entry will be 2 p.m. Thursdays except when noted otherwise on weekly entry form.
- Neither this newspaper nor any co-sponsor will be responsible for illegible entry forms or those lost, stolen or damaged in any way.
- Limit: one entry per person per week. Each entry must represent the original work of one entrant; "group" entries, "systems" or other attempts to enter multiple entries will be disqualified. Filing out extra forms and putting your friends' and relatives' names on them violates this rule. Any such entries are destroyed prior to grading.
- Contestants must have reached the age of eight (8) years by the Sunday of any week's play.

Introducing Metra's North Central Service.

Metra's new North Central Service is big news for residents in Lake and northern Cook counties. Initial train service consists of four weekday inbound and outbound trains serving ten communities between Antioch and Chicago's Union Station plus a transfer stop at O'Hare International Airport, Remote Parking Lot E.

The North Central Service is ideal for customers who travel to downtown Chicago during regular business hours. For customers with only morning business, an early afternoon train departure is also available. To ensure service flexibility during midday and evening hours, Pace provides supplemental bus service that links stations along the North Central Service with three other Metra rail lines.

Townships proud of heritage as 'closest to the people'

STEVE PETERSON

Staff Reporter

Township government is alive and well in Illinois and may very well be an avenue to administer welfare reform.

Township supervisors gave a committee of state representatives their views of the government described as "closest to the people."

"There were some common threads in all three meetings," Rep. Gregg Goslan said.

These included the impact on the state imposed tax cap which limits non-referendum raised resources to expected additional demands when new Social Security income restrictions are in place.

The task force, which included Rep. Andrea Moore (R-Libertyville) will provide a report to the general assembly this November.

"Townships are the ultimate avenue for reaching people's needs. We are more instantly available for people who know they should turn to the township supervisor," John Mullen, a 20-year trustee in Cuba Township near Barrington said.

Charles Fitzgerald, supervisor of north shore based Shields Township, described his township as one of the

'Look at the ability of townships to deliver services - is bigger better?'

Libertyville Twp. Supervisor

more diverse in Illinois.

He cautioned that township officials should expect an increase in general assistance requests when Social Security no longer supports those with drug or alcohol addictions beginning in January.

"It is appalling the magnitude that alcohol and drugs have on our society. With the new Social Security restrictions, you will see an increase in people who fall through the system landing at our doorsteps," Fitzgerald said.

Fitzgerald also addressed the issue of non-funded state mandates. "The legislature had a chance to seek a Constitutional amendment which would ban non-funded state mandates, but they did not," he said.

"Township government has been closest to the people for 140 years," he said.

Townships are charged with road maintenance, general assistance and assessing property.

"The tax cap is the killer. Some townships were caught in the middle if they did not levy for general assistance," Fitzgerald said.

Warren Township is one of those townships.

These range from 14 baseball fields, to soccer fields See TOWNSHIPS page B2

Dole's anti-tax message gets big welcome here

CLAUDIA M. LENART

At 11:30 a.m., after the doors first opened in the College of Lake County gymnasium for the Bob Dole rally, moderator Bob Churchill, state representative, led the crowd in a chant. One side of the building was to shout "Bob" and the other side "Dole." The first attempts were somewhat weak.

However, by 1 p.m. with more than 4,000 Dole supporters standing shoulder to shoulder, the chant of "Bob Dole" resounded through the gymnasium. The growth of the enthusiasm was helped along by the Stevenson High School cheerleaders, the Grayslake

High School band and a slew of GOP dignitaries.

Dole's appearance in Lake County made good campaign strategy as Lake County Republicans know that a presidential race has not been

Residents sign support for Dole

TIM FROELIG

Residents from many communities throughout Lake and Cook counties gathered this past weekend for a sign painting party, in order to show their support for Sunday's arrival of Republican presidential candidate Bob Dole.

The party, which was organized through the Dole/Kemp campaign office in Bensenville, took place in the maintenance building at the College of Lake County. All of the people involved were volunteers who turned out simply to show their support for Dole.

"Before rallies we always have a painting party," stated Kiki Campuzano, who works for the campaign office in Bensenville.

"People call up the office, and we invited those people to come. It's very open to everybody," she added.

Residents who came out to work for the Dole /Kemp ticket said Dole represents the America they believe in.

"I believe in Dole. His honesty—he's someone you can count on. You do things you believe in," said Ray Card of Waukegan.

Debbie Archer, a 35-year-old student at CLC who was busy painting a "Kids for Dole" sign, said "He brings more experience to the table; he's wiser. You surround yourself with people of the same integrity." She also commented on Dole's work ethic. "The harder you work, the more you get, and the more you're respected. Dole exemplifies that. He's a complete man who knows where his ethics are at, unlike Clinton."

"The whole thing is a volunteer effort. It says a lot of the people in Warren Township," he said. Sammon said Warren is concerned about the movement in 1995 to abolish township government in McHenry County.

"People are not rushing to end township government. It is growing and healthy," Rep. James Meyer of Bolingbrook said.

Albert Addams, supervisor of McHenry Township, said that it is getting more and more referrals from public aide. "McHenry County is the fastest growing county in the state and our caseload is getting bigger and bigger. If there is nothing done, it will bust us," he said.

Patricia Jones, supervisor of Waukegan Township, said the township just added youth services this year.

She said the state ending aid for the indigent has impacted the townships.

GURNEE—The family of a Gurnee man who was killed in an accident involving a drunken driver will gather next week at the accident scene.

The family of 22-year-old Lance Donahue of Gurnee will hold a candle-light vigil at the site, Green Bay Road at Sherman Ave. in Waukegan Township. Michael Hilt, a Navy sailor, will serve six months in jail after being convicted of a drunken driving charge. He had been acquitted of a reckless homicide charge. Six arrested in brawl

ROUND LAKE BEACH—Six people were charged with disorderly conduct following an early morning bite to eat at the Blue Bay restaurant on Rollins Road Sept. 22. According to police, as three people were leaving the establishment, three others were entering. Gestures were made, and one thing led to another. Soon all of the subjects were outside of the restaurant and a fight ensued. One of the men admitted to police later that he pulled out a knife, and had thrown it onto the restaurant roof when officers arrived. Witnesses told police one woman was kicking another subject during the brawl. — by TINA L. SWIECH

Good times roll at grocery

MUNDELEIN—The parking lot at Dominick's is always crowded, and officials intend to keep it that way. The grand opening, which began Sept. 10, is still in full swing, and events coordinator Marianne Wieser said special events are booked through November. "We have a lot of activities planned for the first couple of months," said store manager Mike Lynk, "The response has just been overwhelming."

Music, entertainment and free samples continue to be a popular pastime for the customers as well as the curious. Lynk said the store will be involved in community activities. A homecoming promotion will offer special deals for area students and holiday fun is planned for Halloween. — by SUZIE REED

Traffic control plan in a jam

LIBERTYVILLE—The drive sharing/van pool program for downtown commuters hasn't had any takers

so far, according to Transportation Management Association Director Bob Gleeson.

"We didn't get the reaction we'd hoped," he lamented. "We haven't given up; there's going to be a direct mailing."

The program, a cooperative effort of the TMA, the PACE bus system and the Chicago Area Transportation System, would grant those in carpools or van pools special parking privileges at the station along with incentives from MainStreet Libertyville merchants.

Participants can create their own pools or be matched with other commuters. The number for information or to register is 1-800-920 RIDE (7433). — by SUZIE REED

Zion annexes part of Newport

NEWPORT TOWNSHIP—The City of Zion has annexed a portion of Newport Township into its city limits. The area is bounded by the approximate boundaries of Route 173 on the south, Ninth Street on the north, the railroad tracks on the west and a "zig zag" border along the east," according to Mildred Corder, Newport Township supervisor.

The township will suffer a loss of tax revenue as a result of the de-annexation. Corder noted they could fight the annexation but it would be costly.

According to Zion City Clerk Judy Mackey the land is automatically zoned at R-30 which carries a minimum 30,000 square foot lot size for single family development but the owner could petition to change the zoning. — by ELIZABETH EAKEN

Hearings held for safer boating

ANTIOCH—Illinois senators listened to testimony on Senate Bill 1331 regarding boat safety. Tuesday, County, state and federal officials were on hand to endorse the plan which includes increased penalties for boating under the influence, requiring children to wear life vests, requiring education for boat renters and a 150-foot separation of water crafts.

The bill is sponsored by Sen. Adeline Geo-Karis (R-Dist. 30) whose district includes a portion of the Chain of Lakes in her district.

Residents such as Round Lake Trustee John Huebner pushed for stiffer standards calling for separation of uses on lakes such as water-skiing and fishing.

Round Lake Park Trustee John Teubert suggested adding a licensing component to boating and require someone to pass a skills test.

The hearing was conducted to obtain more information before the bill is reintroduced to the legislature. — by ALEC JUNG

Hawthorn balances budget

VERNON HILLS—For the first time in seven years, the Hawthorn District 73 board of education approved a balanced budget. Associate Superintendent Jess Porres was all a smile when he presented a final budget of $24.8 million in revenues and $22.6 million in expenditures for the 1996-97 fiscal year. "It's a balanced budget for the first time in a long time, thanks to our taxpayers," Porres said.

The balanced budget comes after voters approved a referendum last year which included a tax increase and the sale of $10 million in bonds to ward off an impending debt that was projected to reach $9 million last year without the taxpayer bail out.

The district is now looking to upgrade its technology programs and is preparing for building expansion for its fast growing enrollment. — by KEVIN HANRAHAN

CLC schedules new-building dedication

The College of Lake County will hold a dedication ceremony and open house on Saturday, Sept. 28 to celebrate the opening of the new Multiuse Instructional Building on the Grayslake Campus.

Entitled "Mulifest," the celebration is open to the public and will begin at 1 p.m. with ceremonial remarks in the college's main lobby. The formal ceremony will be followed by a reception and an open house in the multiuse building.

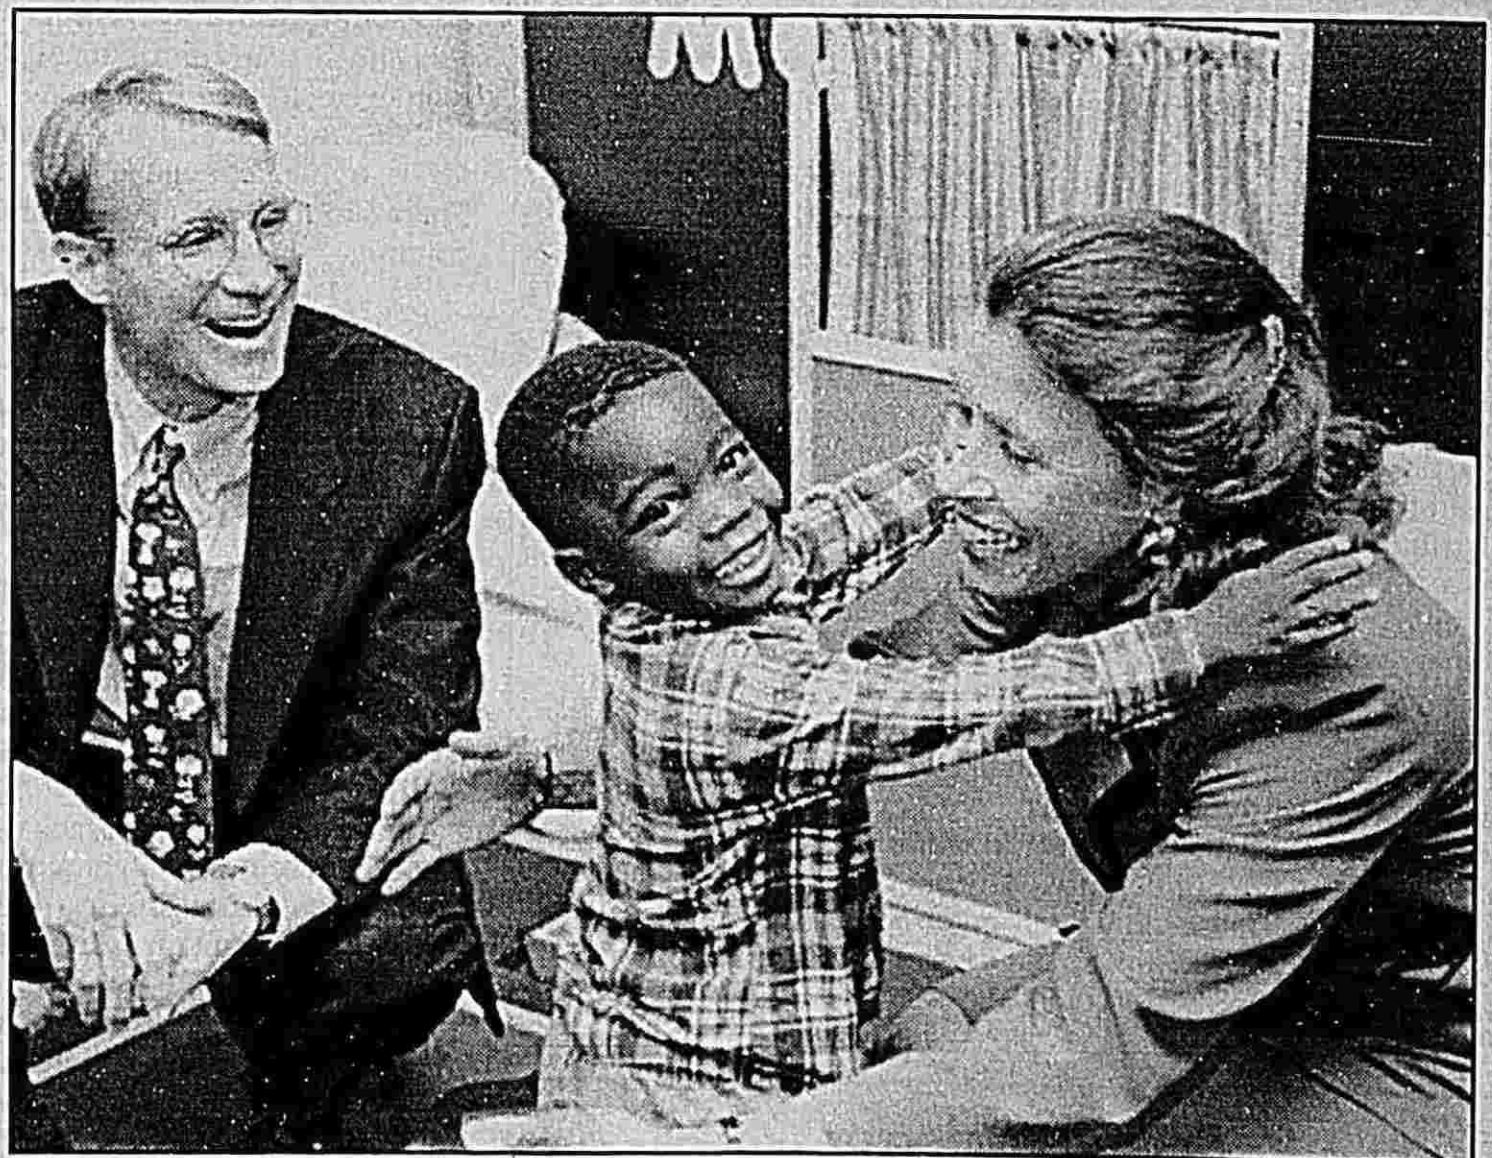

Scheduled speakers at the event include James Lumber, chairman of the CLC board of trustees; Gretchen J. Naff, CLC president; Jack Hudson, chairman of the faculty senate, and Jason L. Johnson, president of the student senate. Ceremony participants will include the CLC board of trustees and local Illinois legislators.

The open house will feature a full program of fun-filled learning activities for both adults and children. These will include "Brains and Brawn," a heart-healthy aerobic dance workout led by nursing instructors to the "Macerena" and other dances; cyberspace explorations in CLCs new multimedia classroom, hands-on art projects for children and adults; a children's sing-along and story reading; musical performances and much more.

Opened for classes Aug. 26, the Multiuse Instructional Building, provides more than 73,000 square feet of space housing programs in art, music, nursing, humanities, human services and multimedia communications. Among the building's many features are state-of-the-art nursing instruction laboratories, a child-care center with an observation room for human services students, multimedia equipped classrooms, art studios and a choral rehearsal room.

Construction of the building was substantially completed in August; other associated sited improvements and renovations are still underway. The total project cost, including design, construction, contingencies, site improvements and renovations is estimated at $19 million, which is being funded by the State of Illinois. Legal Architects, and state-level project administration is being performed by the Illinois Capital Development Board in Chicago. Construction began in summer 1993.

Americans ignore burden of tax load

If presidential polls are to be believed, a great many Americans are satisfied with the way Bill Clinton has been shepherding the U.S. economy.

Why, then, are Bob Dole and Jack Kemp continuing to hammer away at economic deficiencies as they see them, calling for a substantial cut in taxes and other methods of stimulating the economy? Democrats and loud media voices claim Dole and Kemp are "beating a dead horse."

Are they?

A supposedly impartial source, the U.S. Commerce Dept. has reported that the nation's gross domestic product (GDP) grew only 2.3 percent in the first quarter of 1996. If the GDP maintains this turtle-like pace, as most economists predict, then the 1990s will be recorded as this century's second poorest decade for economic and income growth, ahead only of the Depression Era 1930s.

From our vantage point in burgeoning Lake County, where new rooftops and strip malls multiply like fruit flies, it is difficult to understand a national picture of stagnation. Here, there is virtual full employment. Gurnee Mills is a national example of retail prowess. Politicians call for new highways to forestall gridlock. School officials press for more classrooms and usually get them. County population is closing in on 600,000. Family income ranks with the nation's tops.

Undergirding the rosy picture of prosperity as emplied by new subdivisions from Lake Zurich to Wadsworth and all points in between is the fact that two income families are supporting a mountain of debt. An alarming number of new homes in Mundelein, Gurnee and Grayslake, for example, are "under furnished," simply because owners are budgeted for living necessities and hefty mortgage payments.

We, and so many of our neighbors, are the middle class that is "living the American dream" on real average weekly wages 5.5 percent lower than during the Reagan administration. Our lot is a crushing burden of taxation, 28 percent of income going to the federal government alone. In a recent speech at a seminar on the future of American business, Michigan Gov. John Engler said mothers are having to work just to pay off Washington D.C.

Engler scorns liberal journalists, wrong-headed economists and Democratic politicians who view tax-cutting as "wacky" and out-of-tune. The Michigan model works because, when the tax burden is eased, citizens invest more which fuels manufacturing and job creation. In 1995, one of every five new better-paying manufacturing jobs was created in Michigan.

Liberal pundits wring their hands over the "cloud of unrest" hanging over a seemingly prosperous nation. What they ignore is the fact that more and more American families are tired of paying together instead of playing together. With our tax burden eased, we can enjoy traditional family life again and all the benefits it provides for a better nation.

Free ticket onus properly voided

Gurnee village trustees did the right thing in voting to end the practice of accepting hundreds of free tickets annually to Six Flags Great America.

There simply was no way to ethically justify acceptance of the free tickets, a practice dating back to the days when Great America was a new business and management liberally spread around free admissions to swell attendance and advertise. All new businesses do that. It's called advertising promotion, a necessary expense of launching a new enterprise.

But the length and scope of the Great America largess, 400 free tickets annually to Mayor Dick Welton alone, put an entirely different coloration on the practice. The free ticket distribution prompted a rainbow of interpretations, not very many of them pretty.

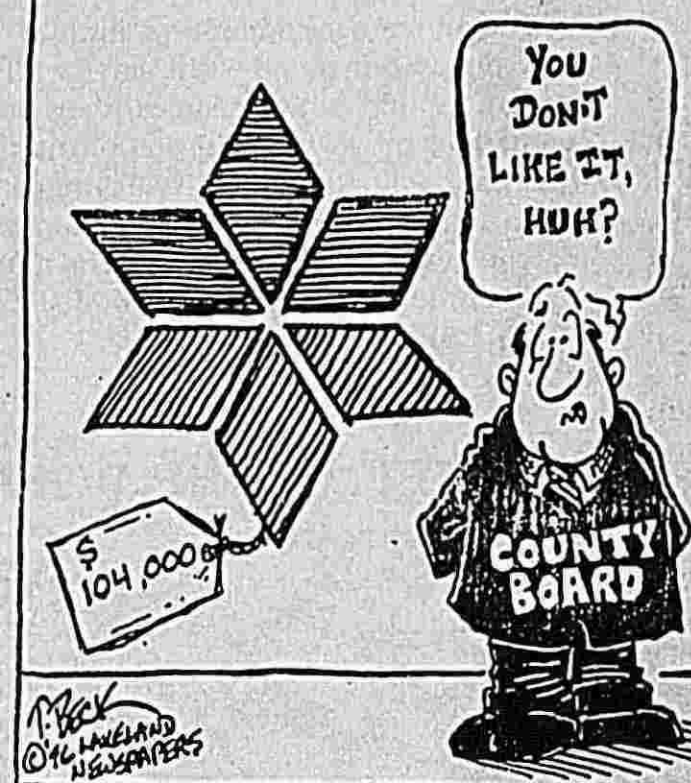

The manner in which Gurnee officials finalized their decision—voting unanimously in 30 seconds without discussion—to reject future gifts from Six Flags, offers mute testimony of their realization that acceptance of the free tickets is distasteful, morally questionable and potentially damaging—to both the village family and the company.

Citizens serving a public entity in either elected, appointed or hired capacity is a public trust. Any question of that trust is a disservice to both the individuals involved and the institution they represent. The proper stance is to operate in a manner that questions simply aren't raised.

Go back to school to spark learning

BILL SCHROEDER

Publisher

A community partnership of business leaders, educators and interested citizens is in its fifth year of promoting Lake County Learns, a volunteer effort to get people turned on about learning.

This year's campaign theme, "Let's Go Back to School," will be highlighted during American Education Week, Nov. 17 to 23, when citizens will be encouraged to visit a school in their neighborhood.

Banker Robert P. O'Meara, chairman, says going back to school can take many forms: visiting a child or grandchild's classroom, attending a band concert, cheering young athletes at a sports event, applauding future actors or musicians.

Businesses can contribute mightily by encouraging employees to take part, stated O'Meara, president and CEO of First Midwest Bankcorp. The committee is trying to build a big tent of participation. There's room for all of us. More about this in future columns.

FARM TOTAL—A certain Chicago newspaper (the big one) seems enamored with the information given them that there are 600 farms in Lake County. We checked two reliable sources and the number of county farms is about 60. A typographical error or an intentional errancy?

If our sources are correct, then the big paper's report about Lake County agriculture being a $30,000,000 to $40,000,000 appears to be high. Corn and soybean prices aren't bad, but does $666,666 production for the average local farm seem realistic?

STAR ARRIVES—When official confirmation was received at Great Lakes Naval Training Center the other day via FAX from the Pentagon that the commanding officer was elevated to the rank of admiral, Capt. Kevin Green quietly left his desk, strode across the street to his quarters where he changed shoulder boards and returned to his desk as Adm. Green. No fanfare. No toasts. "He's that kind of guy," a civilian in Building 1 noted.

ONE MAN'S FAMILY—The sprouts are all set for Halloween. Erika is going to be a princess and John will be a half-pint version of Spider Man.

How to save the economy

Editor:

Bob Dole is right on track with a 15 percent tax cut. I believe it would generate more taxes.

In the mid-80s the destruction of a neighborhood was brought on by a sudden large increase in real estate taxes.

Taxes were due in two installments. The first was always one-half the previous year's tax bill. Any adjustment was part of the second installment.

Our first payment was about $900. He expected the second installment to be about the same. Instead, that year we had to come up with $1,800 for the second installment and had 30 days to adjust our budget. Other homeowners had $2,000 to $3,000 increases because of reassessments in the area.

Older homeowners on a fixed income had to dip into their life savings (if they were able) and young families had to trim their budgets to the bone. Even buying five pounds of potatoes when there was still rice in the cupboard seemed too extravagant.

First, the neighborhood businesses had to lay off the help to survive. That further depressed the economy. Then they had to close.

People lost their homes often because of that one missed installment plus accrued interests and penalties.

When Congress had wanted to get rid of the gas tax, it was reported that would cost the government a billion dollars a day. That money would not have disappeared. It would have been pumped into the economy. One billion dollars a day would have some positive effect on the economy.

Lake County's 'golden boy' Salvi escorts Dole at rally

Party Lines, Lakeland Newspapers' column of political commentary, is prepared from staff reports.

Before Bob Dole arrived at the College of Lake County rally, Bob Churchill, moderator, spent a considerable amount of time introducing local GOP politicians. One such notable noticeably missing from the opening ceremonies was Senate candidate and current state Rep. Al Salvi.

But lo and behold, Salvi, our local golden boy, was not forgotten. On the contrary, he was placed in a most prestigious position of escorting Bob and Elizabeth Dole as they made their entrance.

As Bob Dole walked upon the stage, Salvi was the first to receive a handshake and Salvi was lavished with praise by both Bob and Elizabeth Dole. Elizabeth also gave him a big hug. Elizabeth said, "When Bob Dole becomes president, he's going to need Al Salvi as senator." Bob Dole has learned to capitalize on his unfortunate fall from the stage at a rally in California. His fall provided comic relief at two separate parts of his speech. Towards the beginning, he said, "It's good to drop in on you, maybe I shouldn't use that word... The first call I received after the fall was from a trial lawyer, no offense Al."

Towards the end of his speech, he said, "We're reaching out to the people. I was really reaching out in Chico."

Some of the political who's who to be introduced at the Dole rally were: Grayslake Mayor Pat Carey, Elia Township Supervisor Bob Grever, County Board member Pam Newton, soon-to-be county board member Al

Westerman, outgoing county board members Bob Depke and Ed Fojtik, county coroner Barbara Richardson, County treasurer

Grever

Jack Anderson, County clerk William Helander, state Rep. Andrea Moore, state rep. candidates Mark Beaublen, Joel Gingiss and Corinne Wood, state senate candidate Tom Lachner, county recorder candidate Bob Neal, county board member and Lake County Republican chairman John Schullen, state Sen. Adeline Geo-Karls, Congressmen John Porter and Phil Crane. Phew!!

Fojtik

And of course there were many GOP volunteers, senior citizens and many young Republicans too young to vote.

Stealing Lines—The Republicans are making much of Democratic President John F. Kennedy's record on tax cuts which sparked an economic recovery after his election in 1960. GOP presidential hopeful Bob Dole is promising a 15 percent tax cut which he says will benefit poor and rich alike. Congressman Phil Crane (R-8th) stole another Democratic line, "vote early, vote often" during the Dole rally at CLC.

Ranks expanded—"Fab Five" Republicans on the Lake County Board have expanded their ranks. Joining the independent group are Al Westerman, Bonnie Thomson Carter and Sandy Cole, three nominees running without opposition.

O'Kelly

They share the outlook on growth, development and environmental protection of Suzi Schmidt, Judy Martini, Diana O'Kelly, Carol Calabrese and Martha Marks.

What's going to be their new moniker? Energetic Eight? Exhausted Eight? Electrifying Eight? "Just call us the 'Real Republicans,'" exclaimed Schmidt.

Coffee talk—Starting with a continental breakfast Saturday morning at the Country Squire, members of the Lake County Republican Federation will get down to business at their 34th annual meeting. Prediction: Al Salvi will be accorded a more prominent position than last year. Last year the future U.S. Senate nominee had to put up lawn signs to get recognition.

... ..

'Marked' man—After running a high profile, expensive primary campaign, Mark Beaublen has been operating low key. The Barrington banker-lawyer is starting to step up his pace for the Illinois General Assembly and will peak with a reception Tuesday, Oct. 22, at Country Squire. Beaublen gave up a secure seat on the Lake County Board to seek the seat now held by Al Salvi.

Stalling tactics: The television camera was poised at the ready as Gurnee trustees considered the controversial matter of passes for Six Flags Great America. Trustees agreed to discontinue the use of free passes.

For the first time in years, the first public comment part of the agenda was disposed of. Residents had to wait for a word-for-word reading of a planned unit development agreement. As page by page was read, residents gathered and expressed their frustration.

"It is terrible - that was not what I believed government is all about," resident Barb Brandow said.

Gurnee Mayor Richard Welton defended reading of the document, noting that a lawsuit over impact fees had been filed.

But then residents waited for talk on a teen court, a bid for recognition by service organizations and other non-agenda items. By then, 10 p.m. approached and the news beckoned.

It may be all coincidence, but they do not play well together in Gurnee.

Then suddenly that one billion dollars a day was downplayed as "$2.14 a month for the average motorist." Why?

What about the not-so-average motorists like bus drivers, airlines, truckers, heavy construction and farm equipment? It would still add up to one billion dollars, likely, adding jobs, giving people more spending money and giving more people spending money.

They in turn would also pay taxes. Some people would be able to get off welfare.

Real estate taxes, gas taxes, or income taxes—if higher taxes can destroy the economy, can't lower taxes boost it?

It's worth a try.

Neal has dismal record

Editor:

Generally, the countywide race for the recorder of deeds office generates little attention. This year, however, newcomer Mary Ellen (Durkin) Vanderventer is pitted against longtime politician Bob Neal. I suspect there are reasons to vote for or against either.

My quarrel is with Neal because of his dismal environmental and "real" tax record during almost two decades on the County Board. He has received tens of thousands of dollars in campaign money from the development industry to do their bidding on the County Board. He, along with other Board members, has promoted over-development with the inevitable results of higher taxes, diminished property values of older homes, congested highways and always over-crowded schools.

Something the public is beginning to understand every $400,000 new house will require $50,000 (average) in public funds (taxes) over a 20-year period of time, just for administrative and classroom construction costs. This is over and above all school property taxes generated by those houses. Cheaper houses and more dense zoning could easily cost the public $250,000 per acre in higher school costs over the same 20 year time frame.

Refuting all Neal's efforts to promote himself as a guardian of the tax dollar, he is a consummate politician who stands for little, if anything, that doesn't benefit him politically or economically. He has not earned the public trust to merit being "kicked upstairs" to a much higher paying office. He has cost all Republicans, Democrats and Independents far too much for far too long.

Perot should be heard

Editor:

It seems unconscionable that the Commission on Presidential Debates could possibly act with such hubris and disdain for the opinions of the American people and the spirit of democracy, that they should choose to disallow Ross Perot and running mate Pat Choate from the debates this election year. The rationale that Perot has no realistic chance to win is in direct conflict of the right of the people to hear and be heard.

Polls showed that anywhere from 60 percent to 76 percent of the citizens of this country believe that Perot should be included. Purely subjective criteria such as this makes about as much sense as stopping the Super Bowl from being played because the sportswriters have predetermined the winner.

This decision is pure politics, as the bi-partisan commission, whose co-chairs are the former Republican and Democratic party chairmen, have set up a system which further complicates the process for third parties and independents. This serves to supplement an already monopolized electoral system, maintaining power for two established political parties which have been corrupted by a self-serving system of revolving door financing and special interest influence.

Ironically, the Republicans and Democrats bent over backwards at their partially taxpayer-subsidized, free-air-time infomercial conventions to make everyone feel "inclusive."

Apparently, no reformers need apply.

Time for change

Editor:

This Nov. 5, voters have the best chance in recent history to make a positive change for the 60th district.

This Nov. 5, one of the most qualified candidates anywhere is running for state Representative to carry our concerns to Springfield.

This Nov. 5, all voters must consider who can bring business and legal experience back to the qualifications of a political candidate.

This Nov. 5, the people of District 60 should elect Joel Gingiss to rein in government and bring public service back home to the people. This Nov. 5, Joel Gingiss will do just this.

Should speak American

Editor:

I resent aliens from Mexico and other Spanish speaking countries coming here and to be naturalized in this country are doing it in Spanish when all other foreigners take it in English—which is the Law. If this was done in other countries, you would be in jail or thrown out.

I also feel those that took it in Spanish are not Americans, but are still dedicated to where they come from.

I understand that there are also in Washington two Spanish organizations that are trying to get grants to change the English language and to change our history. Some public schools are teaching only in Spanish instead of English which is unlawful. You can take a foreign language to broaden your knowledge or increase your grades.

Dole

Elizabeth Dole's speech stressed the integrity and honesty of her husband as she quoted Republican and Democrat senators. "He was elected six times as a leader of the Senate because he's honest; he's a man of his word."

And Dole's word was "cut taxes."

"There's no need to apologize for wanting to keep your money. The government should apologize for taking too much of it in the first place," Dole told the crowd. "We're going to balance the budget and cut taxes at the same time. It's not hard at all; it's very easy."

Dole's proposal to cut taxes by 15 percent was not only a main theme in his speech, but also a major theme in the signs of his supporters and the stage backdrop.

His plan also includes cutting in half the capital gains tax, and a $500 tax credit for each child. Dole warned not to believe in President Bill Clinton's plan for cutting taxes.

"He (Clinton) believes in big government and higher taxes... That's why after promising a middle class tax cut, he gave you the largest tax increase in history," said Dole.

Dole spoke at length about the drug war, again criticizing Clinton's record on drugs. "Between 1979 and 1992, overall drug use in America dropped by 50 percent. But in the last four years, drug use among teenagers has more than doubled among children 12 to 17. There are over a million more children using drugs today than the day Bill Clinton was elected... And we can do better and we're going to do better."

Dole blamed the drug problem on the Clinton administration cutting the staff of the office of the National Drug Control policy by 83 percent and on Clinton's judicial appointments.

"When it comes to drugs, the best advice is Just Don't Do It," Nancy Reagan used to say 'Just Say No' and drug use went down," said Dole.

As the balloons began to fall at the CLC gymnasium, Dole told the crowd to ask themselves on election day, "Which one of the candidates do you trust?"

spray painted, particularly the ones put on bedsheets. A great deal of variety was shown by those painting. There were signs created to show members of the press where to go, signs made for restroom, VIP seating signs, and most importantly, signs offering support to the presidential candidate.

John Pastuovic, who is the Press Secretary for the Illinois portion of the Dole/Kemp campaign explained what is involved in preparing for an event such as this. "The campaign provides the signs and paint. Everyone is also fed lunch," informed Pastuovic.

He stated that campaign rallies are held once a week. However, once every month there is a rally which he called "the big rally," in which something extra is involved. NICASA's Parent Project wins national model program award

The Parent Project of the Northern Illinois Council on Alcoholism and Substance Abuse (NICASA) has been named one of the nation's top 15 model family-based juvenile delinquency prevention programs in 1996 by the U.S. Office of Juvenile Justice and Delinquency Prevention (OJJDP).

The Parent Project, which the agency first offered in 1988 at Abbott Laboratories, was designed to provide support and information to working parents on such issues as peer pressure, discipline, drugs, values, communication and outside influences on their children. Parents at Abbott and other area corporations typically hold Parent Project sessions during lunch hour.

Joyce Millman, director of Parent Services, said the Illinois Department of Alcoholism and Substance Abuse (DASA) nominated NICASA for the national award.

"The experts who reviewed the entries said the Parent Project is unique in that we bring the program to the work site," Millman said. "Given the demands of working parents' time, we determined it was unrealistic to expect them to go out in the evening to attend parenting classes. In essence, what we're doing is bringing an important prevention program to the people."

In developing the Parent Project, Millman said research on the corporate climate in relation to family stress showed a need for corporate support for families. She cited a 1994 Bureau of Labor Statistics report that showed 66 percent of women with children under 18 were in the workforce.

"These employees may bring stress related to family concerns, or conflicts between work and family demands to the job, affecting their morals and performance at work," Millman said.

"The program really stands on the human connections made in the program," Millman said. "In a time of family fragmentation, to create a sense of community at work is a precious gift."

Abbott, Allstate Insurance Co., Baxter Healthcare Corp., Motorola and Sears are some of the employers that have hosted the Parent Project, Millman said.

"Offering the Parent Project at Abbott helps our working parents to meet their family responsibilities," Duane L. Burnham, Abbott's CEO, has said. "This, in turn, benefits the company because our employee parents are more effective and productive at work."

Millman said judges selected programs that can be replicated in other settings throughout the nation. She will showcase the program in a March 1997 National Conference in Washington, D.C. and will discuss it in a roundtable at a national Strengthening America's Families conference Oct. 12-14 in Salt Lake City, Utah, sponsored by OJJDP and the University of Utah.

The Parent Project also won the Exemplary Prevention Program Award in 1993 from the National Prevention Network, the National Association of State Alcohol and Drug Abuse Directors and the Center for Substance Abuse Prevention, a division of the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services. In 1993, the program became the model for Illinois Lt. Gov. Bob Kustra's Parenting Partnership initiative.

Driving the cows brings crowd to small northern town

ELIZABETH EAKEN

Staff Reporter

Imagine 80 cows running loose for five days and a bunch of "drugstore cowboys" running around trying to catch them. That's how John Arnow of Ugly Horse Ranch in Genoa City, Wis. describes the second Genoa City Frontier Days Roundup held in 1994. This year will mark the fourth anniversary of the festival which drew over 1,000 people last year.

Part of the festival includes the cattle drive which winds through the downtown as riders and the cattle make their way through the main street of Genoa City and back to camp.

The first year a bunch of riders went on a parade through town and had a barbecue afterwards. The second year 450 riders showed up and "all 80 cattle got away" according to John. "It took us five days to round them up. The farmers were very upset and I left town, but I came back," he joked.

Since then John and his wife, Andrea, the event organizers, have scaled down the cows involved to a more manageable number of 20. Everything has gone smoothly ever since.

The cattle used in the drive are owned by the Arnow's Ugly Horse Ranch which derived its name from their beauty deprived equine.

"Our motto is an ugly horse is a good horse," said John. The reasoning, according to John's logic — if an ugly horse is still around there must be something good about him. Plus if it were named something like "Shady Oaks" no one would remember the name.

"Five years ago no one came to Genoa City so we started this to bring people here," John explained of the Frontier Days roots.

The event is a week-end long affair that has grown to include much more than the cattle drive, although that is still a big part of the weekend.

"It's non-stop activity all day," said John. "Things are going on all the time. There's also a carnival for kids. Basically it's a really fun weekend for the family and is all historically correct."

From Friday, Sept. 27 to Sunday Sept. 29 there will be non-stop activity at the 20-acre Veteran's Park in Genoa City where the festival is held.

On Friday around 250 Civil War reenactors and an Indian Pow Wow will show up for the weekend. During the course of the evening there will be a family fun horse show from 6-10 p.m., a chuck wagon dinner and hog roast from 7-10 p.m., an old time western band from 8-11 p.m. and a campfire from 8 p.m.- midnight.

Saturday, the action begins at 7 a.m. when the pancake breakfast and cowboy coffee begins. At 10:30 a.m. the western riders and cowboys "move out" for the cattle drive-parade from Genoa City to Richmond, Ill. and back. "This is probably the biggest non-motorized parade in Illinois and Wisconsin," said John.

The parade is scheduled to go through Richmond around 11:30 a.m. and return to Genoa City at noon.

Richmond is hosting the parade for the first time this year. Carolyn Jones of Skoopers ice cream and gift shop said the Richmond Business Association is sponsoring Richmond Heritage Days, Saturday after the parade.

There will be a horse dropping contest in which participants place bets on where they think the horse will drop on a diagram and the person closest wins. Half of the proceeds from this will be donated to 11-year-old Cherie Armore who has leukemia.

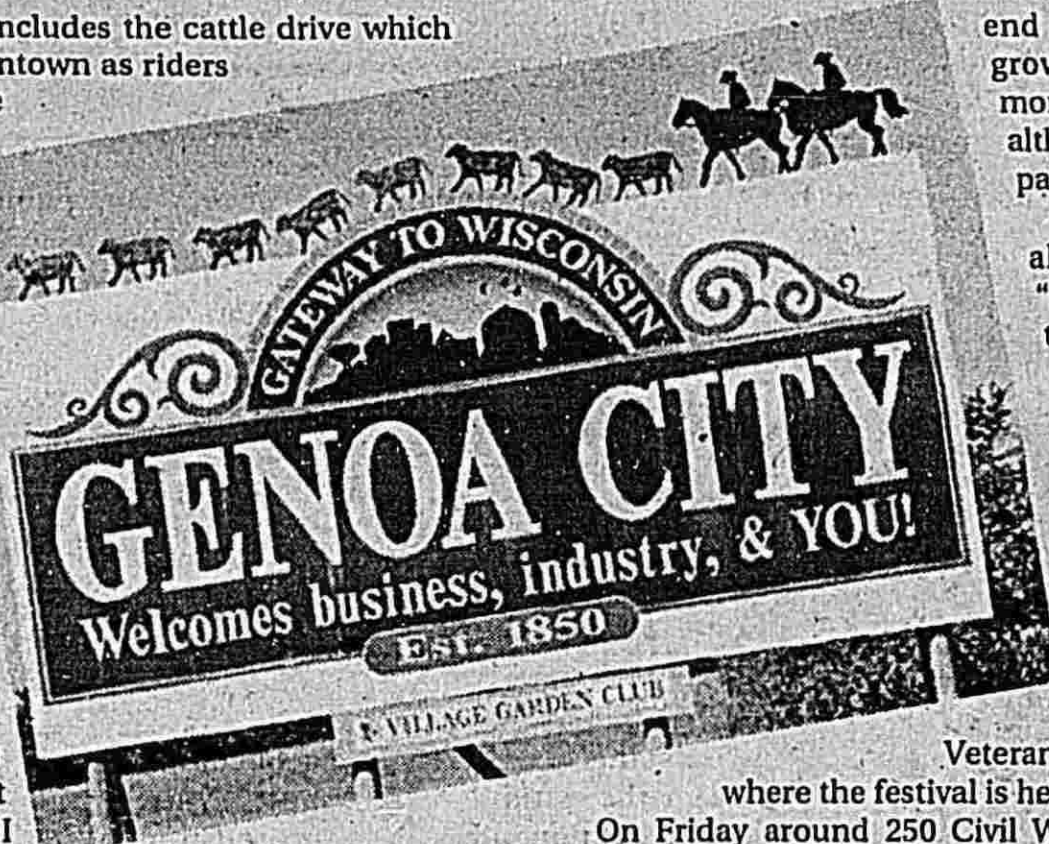

Other activities in Richmond include sidewalk sales, a silversmith artist, a coloring contest with prizes awarded that day and the merchants will be dressed in historical garb.

Once the cowboys head back into Genoa City a barbecue dinner featuring New York strip steak will be held starting at 1 p.m. Several activities are scheduled from the afternoon until midnight including a Civil War reenactment, a country western band, three cowboy bands from 1-7 p.m., a cowboy poet, pony and wagon rides, a camp fire and more.

Sunday another round of frontier activities begins at 7:30 a.m. with the usual pancake breakfast. At 10 a.m. Cowboy Church will be held on horseback and everyone is welcome to join. The Lake County Mounted Posse Family Fun Horse Show will be held at 10:30 a.m. and other activities from a pow wow to tours of the Civil War encampment will take place. The action Sunday is expected to mosey on out at 1 p.m.

John said he hopes to continue the Frontier Days well past 2000. He noted 90 percent of the riders who participate in the parade and the shows are from Illinois. Many of them heard about it by word of mouth when the cows got loose.

To reach Genoa City take Route 173 west to Route 12, turn north and bear left on Highway H. Follow Highway H to Genoa City and the signs will direct you to Veteran's Park.

Spirit of Pocahontas comes to Rosemont Horizon

Walt Disney's World On Ice—The Spirit of Pocahontas, the newest ice extravaganza from Producer Kenneth Feld, has come to the Rosemont Horizon now through Sept. 29 and moving to Chicago's United Center, Oct. 1 through Oct. 6.

This magnificent tale of adventure, romance and nobility comes to life in an $8 million, on ice, family entertainment spectacular that offers passionate performances by championship skaters, awe-inspiring special effect, richly hued set designs, finely detailed period costumes and the ever memorable music from Disney's Academy Award winning motion picture soundtrack.

Set in 1607, in an era rife with both discovery and chaos, the innovative production portrays on ice an epic struggle between two very different cultures, culminating in a dramatic climax that forever changes their lives.

"Many audience members already know the story of Pocahontas and have seen the blockbuster Disney movie. Our challenge is to bring Disney's beloved characters and story to life through the personalities of the talented figure skaters and the use of innovative staging and movement on ice," said Feld.

Powerful skating performances, choreographed by American Sarah Kawahara, create drama on ice. Taiwanese Nationals champion Joanna Nig of Woodland Hills, Calif., and charismatic Russianskater Sergei Petrovski portray the star-crossed Pocahontas and John Smith.

Mers begins the 39th year of serving their customers

Being a successful family restaurant for almost 39 years now, means so much to Rosemary Mers, her son Robert, and his wife Cheri, owners and operators of the eatery, that they are inviting everyone to enjoy the fine dining experience they have been bringing to the Wauconda area for all these years.

From Oct. 5 to Oct. 20, Mers will run their annual German Buffet nightly. The price is $10.95 for adults and $5.95 for kids, two to 10 years old. On the German Buffet Mers features sauerbraten, weiner schnitzel and spatzle or brats, liver dumpling soup and much more, all prepared by Chef Bob.

Mers is also one of the few restaurants that still has daily specials at reasonable prices without letting their culinary quality suffer. All specials include the scrumptious salad bar or soup. On Sunday, roast chicken with sage dressing is the special at $8.95 and on Monday its New York Strip Steak and grilled shrimp at $10.95.

Closed on Tuesdays, the Wednesday special is all-you-can-eat fried Walleye for $9.95; on Thursday it's juicy Prime Rib for $9.95, and on Friday, it's all-you-can-eat perch for $6.50, and BBQ beef ribs on Saturday for $8.95. Mers is well known for its tantalizing Sunday brunch which is served from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m., $8.95 for adults and children 10 and under are $5.95. Diners can choose from an assortment of 14 hot breakfast selections, or they can enjoy a custom-made omelet. The brunch also features a salad bar and a tempting dessert table.

The Sunday Senior Citizen Special, served from 2 to 5 p.m., consists of an entree, glass of wine and dessert for $7.95. Don't forget to visit Mers lounge on Saturday evenings to enjoy their entertainment.

Mers, which is on the shores of Bangs Lake, located at 313 E. Liberty in Wauconda, has been carved out of an old stagecoach stop and has been an area tradition since 1906.

Mers is open for lunch everyday but Tuesday and on Sunday from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. for brunch, 8 p.m. for dinner, with regular daily dinner hours from 4:30 to 10 p.m. The restaurant also offers catering and special banquet facilities, so make reservations for your special party early by calling (847)526-6905.

Critic's Choice

Original 'Odd Couple' tough act to follow

Candlelight's Forum Theater has opened its 1996-97 season with a classic comedy, Neil Simon's "The Odd Couple."

Director William Pullinsi, using homegrown talent, generally sticks to the script while updating it with a few fresh references.

Larry Wyatt plays the fastidious Felix Unger and Vince Viverito is Oscar Madison, his carefree (read "slob") pal. The two—with personalities that are worlds apart—move in together to save money for their alimony payments but end up with the same conflicts as in their marriages.

"Everything you do irritates me," Oscar grouches at Felix, complaining about his overzealous cleaning, preoccupation with cooking and his tendency to talk too much. Oscar would be content to leave well enough alone and drown his sorrows in a quick drink.

Wyatt whines with abandon and passes guilt like nobody's business, while Viverito brings out the macho. It's a great character study. Even the minor roles, played by the four poker buddies and two flighty neighbors, add flavor to the stew.

The scene design (good work by Jeff Bauer) is a New York City apartment transformed from a bachelor's hovel to showpiece. It's familiar to anyone who has seen the 1968 movie version of "The Odd Couple" starring Jack Lemmon and Walter Matthau.

Because those actors indelibly defined the roles of Felix and Oscar, they have made it tough for all who follow in their footsteps. In the Forum Theater's hands, the leads turn in creditable performances. For "inspiring," we prefer the film.

See "The Odd Couple" through Nov. 24. For ticket information, call (708)496-3000.—by TOM WITOM

Larry Wyatt as Felix Unger and Vince Viverito as Oscar Madison in Candlelight's Forum Theater's "Odd Couple."

Quilt teacher to address guild

Georgia Bonesteel will address members and guests of IQI (Illinois Quilters, Inc.) at their October meeting. Bonesteel is best known as the creator and hostess of "Lap Quilting" which is seen locally on PBS Channel 20. She is an instructor for numerous workshops and brings innovative techniques which turn quilting into a simple, rewarding art form. She is the author of six books, has designed fabric as the inventor of Grid Grip and has sponsored cruises and tours for quilters. Her lecture will be "Cover Lovers" which is described as follows: From friends across the state of North Carolina and beyond, view a panorama of creative stitchery. The many reasons for their quilt mania are further explored through countless letters, media contacts and workshop communication.

The meeting and lecture is Thursday, Oct. 3 at 7:30 p.m. at Beth Hillel Congregation, Frontage and Glenview Rds., Glenview. Admission is free of IQ members and $5 for all others.

On Friday, Oct. 4, Bonesteel will teach an all-day workshop.

Miami Beach's Art Deco era makes a comeback

by JIM WARNKEN, PRESIDENT NORTH STAR TRAVEL, INC.

Designed in bold, stunning geometric designs, draped in rainbows of pastel colors, reflecting the flamboyant feeling of the times. These were the hotels of South Miami Beach of the early 40's. This was the architecture born there nearly 50 years ago.

This was art deco.

It has taken almost 6 years of extensive restoration and millions of dollars, but Miami's art deco district has risen from decades of neglect to what is becoming known worldwide as "America's Riviera."

Even the beach has been revitalized thanks to a multi-million dollar reclamation project by the army corp of engineers. South Miami Beach, which had almost disappeared due to erosion in the 1970's, now stretches over 10 miles and is nearly 1/2 mile wide.

You shy types may want to avoid the beach between 6th and 21st streets. Since the art deco district draws many European tourists, topless bathing is allowed on this part of the beach.

The area also appeals to the European film and fashion industry. You are quite likely to see a fashion shoot, or even a movie scene using one of the art deco hotels as a setting. After 9 p.m., you'll find the fashion models enjoying the friendly little lobby bars in these same hotels.

I had the opportunity to visit one of these architectural masterpieces called the Beach Paradise Hotel at 600 Ocean Drive. Bill Nightingale, the general manager, said the hotel was purchased at a cost of about a million dollars. Before its reopening only 4 months ago, another two million was spent on renovation.

Bill said certain items, like the tile floor, were retained. Even the fireplace in the lobby (don't ask me why a fireplace is in Miami) is original. My favorite feature is the quaint, open style brass and wood elevator.

The guests rooms, however, are totally new. Most have ocean views and all are air conditioned.

With rates starting at about $55 per night to stay in a piece of American history and across from the beach, how can you go wrong?

Horoscope

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) A close relative brightens your week with some welcome news. Before making any major purchases, be sure that you and your mate are in sync about how much to spend. Sometimes, you have a tendency to just go ahead willy-nilly without thinking.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) You and a loved one have a minor falling out about a money matter early in the week. However, don't allow it to escalate or last longer than it should. The weekend favors get-togethers with friends.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 20) Couples enjoy some special time together this week. However, be sure that all tasks are completed before going off for any romantic outings. Events that occur in a child's life are very favorable for the entire family.

CANCER (June 21 to July 22) You need to take some time out early in the week to meditate and get some answers. Sometimes, others distract you from your primary goals. The weekend is best for completing a project.

LEO (July 23 to August 22) Finances are looking up. Keep on this track for additional success. Your personality comes to your aid while negotiating a business deal. Research and cerebral activities are favored for the weekend.

VIRGO (August 23 to September 22) You're personality-plus this week, but it's best to follow up on your independent urges. Business deals are pulled off only if you can utilize tact, not an easy task for you. An intriguing weekend invitation comes your way.

LIBRA (September 23 to October 22) Anything you do as a group activity is favored. The accent is heavily placed on teamwork this week. If you've been waiting for financial backing for a project, this is the time to attain it.

SCORPIO (October 23 to November 21) What occurs behind the scenes benefits you greatly financially. However, don't rush out later in the week on that tempting shopping expedition. This weekend, keep certain personal plans private.

SAGITTARIUS (November 22 to December 21) Be sure to take advantage of that special opportunity that comes your way early in the week. Something occurs at work that surprises you. However, this ultimately develops into future gains or a possible promotion.

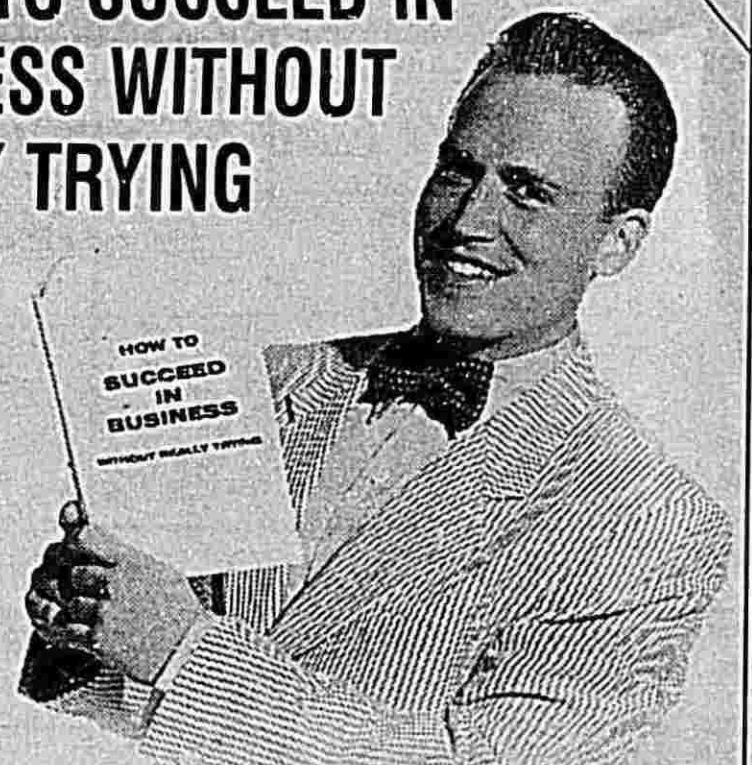

CAPRICORN (December 22 to January 19) Self-confidence is the key to help you achieve what you want at work. Later in the week, news you receive about a family matter cheers you up. This weekend, communicative skills come to the fore.

AQUARIUS (January 20 to February 18) Try not to be put out when someone shows up at your door unexpectedly sometime this week. This person has an interesting revelation. Be patient over the weekend with a cantankerous loved one who may not be feeling well.

PISCES (February 19 to March 20) Your bookkeeping has been a bit sloppy lately, unlike you, and needs to be corrected. If out shopping, something very unusual captures your imagination. This weekend, singles find dating very rewarding.

Lake County getting ready for a fall color explosion

Following are several suggestions for beautiful fall color trees:

The Acer x freemanii 'Autumn Blaze,' this tree is a Red and Silver Maple cross. It shows the growth vigor of a Silver, with the fall colorings of red-orange of the Red Maple parent. This tree can grow in alkaline soil, is drought tolerant and fast becoming a favorite among many foresters in the Lake County area. This tree does require pruning at an early age (three to four years) to keep a nicely shaped crown.

The 'Marmo' is a Morton Arboretum selection with early fall coloring turning red with green patches. Both these trees are extremely showy each year and the colorings can last several weeks.

Another great tree, sometimes classified as an ornamental is the Amelanchier x grandiflora. The common name, Apple Serviceberry or Juneberry. This particular plant has shades of red and orange each fall. The cultivar 'Autumn

Brilliance' has excellent red autumn-colors. This plant also is attractive year round. In spring it has showy white blooms throughout the entire tree. Its' summer foliage is a glossy green showing excellent disease resistant on the leaves. We prefer the clump form, however, this plant is grown both tree form and clump form. Its grey branching is quite nice against a dark brick or darker sided home. We find this plant to really show off its form when lighted in the landscape.

If you like a bright yellow color in your landscape each fall, try the 'Superform' or 'Emerald Lustie' Norway Maples. The American Hornbeam is a native tree to the northern Illinois and has a golden fall color. The Katsuratre has a blue-green leaf all summer, which turns to an orange-yellow each fall.

So many great trees to pick from, that offer years of enjoyment. Learn their cultural requirements, their shape, the height and spread at maturity, if they attract wildlife, or how these plants can effect the overall look on your property.

Visit nurseries, garden centers, etc. to view these trees, and consult with arborists, horticulturists, landscape architects/designers that work daily with these plants. Visit the Botanic Gardens in Glencoe, or the Morton Arboretum in Lisle to view trees in the landscape.—by MIKE GRECO, landscape architect, owner of Mike Greco Landscape, Inc., Gurnee. Time to protect landscape from 'Old Man Winter'

As the seasons change once again, Lake County homeowners will witness the slow and inevitable deterioration of beautiful spring and summer landscapes. This year, however, why not take a few simple steps in fall to prepare your yard for the coming cold weather?

As weather conditions change and time passes, trees and shrubs will naturally acquire their share of dead twigs and broken branches. So, perhaps one of the easiest steps you can take to help rejuvenate the natural beauty of your landscape is pruning. To start, remove all of the dead or injured branches using pruning scissors, being sure to trim any weak, spindly growths. If a shrub is seriously overgrown and needs to be cut back dramatically, additional trimming may be necessary. A "thinning" cut removes old limbs at the base of the shrub, allowing light to reach the interior of the plant and encourage new growth. A "heading" cut takes the branch only as far back as the bud, which stimulates side branching, enabling the plant to grow more compactly.

An important step to remember when pruning plants is to apply an anti-transpirant spray after making the appropriate cuts. Using an antitranspirant spray, decreases the amount of water lost by newly pruned shrubs. Simply apply these water-based formulas to leaves and branches. A clear film will form, providing protection against the danger of winterkill. A thorough spraying should last approximately three months.

As temperatures continue to drop and the ground begins to freeze, evergreens may begin to acquire brown foliage, an indication that thirsty plant roots are not receiving water. Though all plant life suffers through winter conditions, evergreens tend to be hit the hardest. Trees and shrubs transpire year round, meaning they release water through pores in their leaves—water which continually needs to be replaced. Plants depend on the soil for this moisture supply but encounter difficulty when faced with the frozen conditions. To help your plants survive, it is a good idea to water the soil several feet deep in the late fall. Deeply watered soil tends not to freeze all the way through, allowing roots to reach needed moisture, which will protect shrubs from the damage of dehydration.

In the search for a product that helps protect and maintain landscapes through the winter months, more and more gardening homeowners are turning to landscape fabrics. Landscape fabrics are designed to help prevent weed growth while working to retain moisture in the soil at the same time. Most importantly, landscape fabrics reduce the amount of water lost to evaporate and help moderate temperature fluctuations, making it more difficult for the soil to freeze solid. Simply lay overlapping strips of the fabric atop the prepared area. Then, using scissors or a knife, cut holes or X's in the appropriate spots and pull the fabric down around the plants, pushing the loose flaps of fabric back under the plants.

Attention late bloomers.

It's time for the fall color of garden mums. These hardy bloomers are one of the easiest to grow. And they display enough color to make those turning tree leaves envious. The garden mum has been called "America's Most Popular Perennial" — and with good reason. With the proper care and a bit of help from Mother Nature, garden mums have the potential to bloom again and again every autumn.

So if you need a good excuse to get outdoors this fall, grab an armload of our spectacular garden mums, available now at Leider's Garden Greenery.

A healthier, happier life begins with self-determination

Regular exercise is the key to a happier, healthier life, but all too often, exercise and excuses go hand in hand. It's been said over and over again how important exercise is to one's physical and mental well-being, but when it comes down to doing something to change their lifestyles, many people's excuses become greater than their determination.

Those who are motivated to exercise take the time to work out at their local fitness club or participate in other athletic endeavors. But being motivated is the key. Society, more often than not, encourages sedentary, unhealthy lifestyles that are hard to reverse once habit sets in.

Whether you're a once-a-month exerciser or a complete couch potato, the list of benefits to be gained from exercise may be longer than you think.

Besides burning calories, regular exercise can stimulate the mind as well as the body's energy level. The National Cholesterol Education Program maintains that exercising for 15 to 30 minutes three times a week will give you more energy, relieve stress, give added strength to work, allow you to play harder and longer, firm muscles, and allow you to fall asleep easier. Your body becomes a fine-tuned machine under the influence of regular workouts.

Chances of developing high-risk health problems, like heart disease and obesity, are lessened by exercise. Shaping up and staying fit helps people tackle problems such as high blood pressure, high blood cholesterol, diabetes and obesity. The higher your blood cholesterol level, the greater your chances of getting heart disease.

Once you start an exercise program, it's easier to sustain than you may think. And once you start seeing and feeling the results, you won't want to stop. Here are some tips for getting on an exercise binge:

- If you don't already belong to a health club or exercise program, sign up now. Not only will you sleep better, look better and suffer fewer colds and illnesses as a result, but many gyms and clubs run winter membership specials that could prove a substantial cost savings to you.

- Don't exercise without warming up first. Joints are often stiff and muscles contracted in colder weather. A good warm-up regimen consists of movements simply to get the joints and muscles working.

- Jogging is a great aerobic workout, and you don't need a health club to incorporate this activity into your daily routine.

- Walking for fitness can be incorporated into busy days or your lunch hour. It requires only comfortable shoes and clothing. Take along your dog or portable music player and headphones.

- Replenish your body with plenty of liquids always, especially during exercise. Drinking lots of water will not only cleanse your body of toxins, but will retain the moisture balance in your skin.

Remember, incorporating an exercise program into your daily routine involves time management, planning and flexibility on your part.

Tips for fitness over 40

1. Weight-bearing exercise, along with proper nutrition, can help reduce your chances of developing osteoporosis, or weak bones, as you age.

2. Back injuries, which affect 80 percent of adults, can often be prevented by proper lifting techniques. Keep the back straight and use the legs, instead of the back, to bear the weight when lifting heavy objects.

3. Take walking breaks from sitting for five to 10 minutes each hour, and sit and stand with proper body alignment to avoid stressing muscles and tendons. Check in a mirror to see that your ear, shoulder, and hip are in alignment when you stand or sit.

4. Make time for daily exercise. Schedule your exercise session for the same time every day.

5. Instead of a burger and fries, have a light lunch and go fitness walking on your lunch break.

6. Don't fall victim to the "weekend warrior" syndrome of sore muscles and injuries from sudden use of inactive muscles. If you haven't exercised in a while, start your exercise program gradually.

7. Warm up with light aerobic exercise before stretching to prevent straining or tearing muscles.

8. Mix up your fitness activities to avoid overusing muscle groups and joints and to prevent boredom.

9. Listen to your body: slow down or quit when you feel pain.

10. Involve your family in your fitness routine by playing sports or joining a health club together so that you can spend quality time with loved ones and be a good example to children.

Tips for seniors to avoid falls

1. Keep extension cords and telephone cords out of pathways.

2. Keep newspapers and magazines off the floor.

3. Watch out for small pets which tend to get under foot.

4. Have proper lighting in each room to enable you to see and avoid obstacles. Light switches should be near room entrances, and indirect lighting is preferred to prevent glare.

5. Avoid changing position quickly, such as when getting out of bed or a chair. Stand for a moment to make sure you're not dizzy so that you can sit down if necessary.

6. Avoid chairs without arms; it is easier to rise from a chair that has arm handles.

7. Use stair railings when possible.

8. Avoid concrete, linoleum, and tile, which are extremely slippery when wet.

9. Avoid slippers without covered toes, which tend to get caught on the floor and cause falls.

10. Use bath mats with a rubberized, non-

How to cope with rising food prices, and still eat well

You've read about it. You've heard about it. You've probably felt it at checkout lines. The increase in food prices Americans are experiencing is unusually high, especially because we are used to some of the best food values in the world.

This spring's bad weather and the subsequent impact on grain prices are major factors in the multiple causes for higher priced grocery items. But whatever the causes—the consumer is left to cope with them.

"We are especially concerned with the current scenario," says Dairy Council of Wisconsin nutrition expert Laura Wilford, R.D., "because the increases are affecting very basic food items—such as milk. We hope consumers are not trading off good nutrition for items that may cost less or may be nutrient poor."

Such a strategy would cost far more in the long run, she notes, in terms of jeopardizing the adequate consumption of key vitamins and nutrients essential for good health. Many Americans, especially women, already fail to meet the daily recommendation for calcium, so cutting back on dairy foods would be especially detrimental.

But, to keep food spending in line and on budget, something may have to go. Dairy Council of Wisconsin has compiled the following tips to help you cope and still be able to afford the foods you need—as well as your occasional must-have indulgences.

• What price convenience? In today's world, consumers demand convenience and justly so, but take a close look at what you're spending on convenience. Are some things just as easy—or almost as easy—to do yourself?

Preparing muffins from a mix takes scarcely less time than mixing the dry ingredients yourself. Blending a simple dip requires sour cream, sometimes mayonnaise and seasonings. Peeling a carrot can be a quick job with an adequate peeler. Can you give up the peeled and cut variety from the produce section (at as much as four times the cost)? Those single-serve bottled drinks can pack a wallop if you're grabbing one each morning for the drive or the office. Invest in a small thermos and pour yourself some milk or juice for the ride from a more economical size you can keep in your fridge all week.

Each family will have its priorities when it comes to convenience items.

Take a close look at your needs vs. your desires, and use convenience foods when they truly save you time without paying a disproportionate price.

• Weigh fresh vs. processed in See FOOD page B20

UIC offering blood tests

The endocrinology and metabolism clinic at the University of Illinois at Chicago Medical Center is offering free blood tests to people who have relatives with Type 1 or insulin-dependent diabetes.

The screening is part of a nationwide study to determine if taking insulin capsules can prevent or delay diabetes. To be eligible, individuals must have a relative with Type 1 diabetes and must be between 3 and 45 years of age. For more information or to arrange for testing, call the clinic at (312) 996-6060.

The national study is designed for people at moderate risk of developing diabetes. Volunteers who test at high risk for the disease will be assigned to another phase of the project that offers more appropriate treatment. If screening results show that a person is at risk for developing diabetes, additional tests will determine eligibility for the study. If enrolled, those at moderate risk for Type 1 diabetes will take one insulin capsule a day. Those at high risk for the disease will take two insulin injections a day.

slip backing. It's best to avoid throw rugs because they can trip you or slide on floors.

Tips for safe and fit kids

1. Do a few minutes of easy exercise, such as arm circles and marching in place, before you play to warm up your muscles so they don't get hurt.

2. Always stretch your muscles after you warm up, and remember not to bounce when you stretch. 3. Make your muscles stronger by doing exercises like push ups and sit ups every day, but don't use weights unless you first ask a physical therapist or doctor if it's okay.

4. Avoid sitting with your feet behind you and your knees out in a "W" position. This position twists your knees and hips in ways that they're not made to go.

5. Learn the right way to play sports from your teachers and coaches.

Always play with an adult nearby.

selected foods. With the emphasis fresh, it's easy to forget that some processed foods rank high on the quality scale—and are much cheaper. Bottled pasta sauces—from gourmet to popular brands—are more economical than fresh, and many are excellent. (dry pasta is much less costly than fresh, as well). Frozen vegetable (just plain, no sauce) sometimes surpass what's available fresh in quality and retain their nutrition if cooked properly.

• Shop the season and the specials. This tip will benefit you in two ways: you will save money—and the taste will be better. Make your frequently served fruits and vegetables coincide with the harvest, when feasible. Sweet corn in the summer, squash in the fall, root vegetables in the winter and asparagus in the spring.

• How's your storage space? Obviously, buying in quantity is a good way to recognize value, so if you're lucky enough to have storage space, take advantage of multipackages.

Or, form a co-op with a friend or two and split the purchases. Such a strategy requires upfront planning, however, so you'll have to take some time.

• On the other hand—Nothing is a bargain if you don't use it. The 48-ounce box of cereal that goes stale before you eat it is not a good buy.

The 10-pound bag of potatoes that sprouts isn't going to end up saving you money.

• Beware of one-stop shopping. It's so tempting. Megastores seem to have it all, and they do. But not everything may be value priced. There's merit to shopping stores that specialize in certain categories in terms of both price and quality.

• Put a sunny window sill or plant light to work. Do you use fresh herbs? Do you buy those packages of one cup quantity when you need two tablespoons? It's more practical to purchase your most used herbs as potted plants and put them on a well-lit window sill (or under a plant light). You'll have herbs throughout the cold months at a price you can afford.

• Give store brands and generic a try. A few years ago we loved generic; then we loathed it. Time to revisit. Some generics and store brands are very good indeed and are packaged by the folks who are giving you branded items. It's worth a try.

• Make your shopping child-proof. If you take your kids food shopping, develop a strategy for dealing with their requests beforehand. Little hands can drop a fist-full of extra dollars into your grocery cart.

• We repeat: don't shop hungry. Studies keep substantiating it: hungry shoppers buy more items, especially snack foods. Be honest, what indulgences can't you live without?

• Don't scrimp on foods that offer you great nutrition—the dairy, meat, grains, fruits, and vegetable groups—to allow for extras. This is a very poor investment strategy.

Victory introduces centralized service for outpatient testing

Area residents undergoing outpatient laboratory and diagnostic testing at Victory Memorial Hospital (Waukegan) have been pleasantly surprised by the hospital's change in services. In May, Victory opened its new Outpatient Testing and Treatment Area which has resulted in streamline visits for patients.

"Over 100 patients come to Victory each day for diagnostic tests," says Mary Witt, co-manager, Diagnostic Imaging Services. "Many of them need a combination of tests such as an EKG, an X-ray and a blood test."

In the past, hospitals routinely designed their services for the convenience of their staff. Patients went from department to department, sometimes spending as long as three to four hours at the hospital.

"Victory has put the patient's convenience first," says Pamela Carlborg, manager, Laboratory. "Our new Outpatient Testing and Treatment Area centralizes the services for the patient."

This new streamline outpatient system can cut time at the hospital by as much as 50 percent from people needing routine tests.

After taking care of the admitting paperwork, outpatients now walk across the hall to the centralized waiting room of the new Outpatient Testing and Treatment Area. There they register for tests. In this area are multipurpose testing rooms to accommodate x-ray, ultrasound, mammography, CT scan, nuclear medicine, EKG, stress testing and laboratory tests. Future plans call for the addition of EEG, EMG and respiratory care services to the Testing and Treatment Area.

"Not only do our patients find the new system more convenient and less time consuming, but they also feel more comfortable and relaxed in the new environment," says Wayne Bohning, co-manager, Diagnostic Imaging Services. "That makes the testing process easier for everyone."

Victory's Outpatient Testing and Treatment Area is located on the hospital's main floor, just off the central corridor. Tests are scheduled from 6 a.m. to 10:30 p.m., Monday through Friday, and from 6:30 a.m. to 8 p.m. on Saturday.

The opening of the Outpatient Testing and Treatment Area is Victory's latest patient focused care innovation. In addition to the Testing and Treatment Area, improvements include the "fast track" for minor emergency care in the Emergency Department; redesign of inpatient care departments to enhance coordination of care and the expansion of Cardiopulmonary Health Services to meet the community's growing need for cardiac and pulmonary rehabilitation care. To see how healthcare is changing at Victory Memorial Hospital, call the Community Relations Department at 360-4246 and schedule a tour.

Barrington residents lace up to fight heart disease

Hundreds of business leaders, residents and employees of the Barrington area will walk all over heart disease and stroke at the community's first Healthy Choice American Heart Walk presented by Loyola University Health System. The event begins at 9 a.m. on Saturday, Sept. 28 at the Prairie Campus of Barrington Middle School, 40 E. Dundee Rd.

Families, individuals and corporate teams of walkers will raise money for cardiovascular research and educational programs of the American Heart Association by asking friends and co-workers for donations for walking the course. Each walker who raises at least $100 receives a Healthy Choice American Heart Walk T-shirt and will be eligible for more prizes.

"Heart disease is a serious problem in the community," said walk chairman Russell Feurer, CEO of Good Shepherd Hospital in Barrington. "It accounted for nearly 40 percent of all deaths in Lake County in 1994. We're walking to raise money to fight back, get some exercise and have fun."

Among the groups of walkers will be the Mallon family team of Fox River Grove, 75 people strong, who are walking to celebrate the progress of two-year-old Haley Mallon, who was born at Good Shepherd Hospital with a congenital heart defect called tetralogy of Fallot. Haley, along with other walkers who have heart disease or have survived a heart attack or stroke, will be wearing a red cap with the words "Fight Back" on it during the walk. "We know that 20 years ago, someone else was out there raising money for the research that enabled Haley to survive; now it's our turn to make a contribution," Colleen Mallon, Haley's mom.

The Mallon family will be joined at the Barrington area walk by Haley's physician, Iran DuBrow, M.D., a pediatric cardiologist on Good Shepherd's staff and director of pediatric cardiology at Lutheran General Hospital in Park Ridge. Good Shepherd Hospital expanded its scope of pediatric services to include subspecialists, including Dr. DuBrow, from Lutheran General Hospital. The hospital will now be able to care for children who, like Haley, have more complex conditions and illnesses, and patients and families—like the Mellons—won't have to travel long distances to receive advanced care. With the addition of pediatric subspecialists, Good Shepherd Hospital is now one of only a few community-based health facilities in the area to offer advanced pediatric care and state-of-the-art support services close to home.

Lakeland
Newspapers

Lipservice is a phone-in column presented as a feature of Lakeland Newspapers. Lakeland Newspapers makes no claim to the authenticity of the statements. Lakeland Newspapers does not claim the content or the subject matter as fact, but as the personal opinion of the caller. Lakeland Newspapers reserves the right to edit copy or to refrain from printing a message. Call in at 223-8073 and leave your message 24-hours a day. Although the call is anonymous, please leave your village name.

Join Jaycees

In response to the person who was looking for a club to join, the Jaycees (Junior Chamber of Commerce) are always looking for young, energetic, sociable people who like to have fun while serving their community. If you are interested in obtaining or perfecting individual and management skills, participating in worthwhile community activities, and meeting a wide variety of people, contact the Jaycees (Antioch, Grayslake, and Lake Zurich are clubs in the immediate area). As a member, not only will you have fun and make lifelong friends, but you will add valuable skills that will benefit both the social and professional aspects of your life. You should be able to obtain the number of the club of your choice through the village's local Chamber of Commerce or Village Hall. Don't delay, join today!

Take a look

Many school systems in Lake County are offering a program called Market Day to its parents for the purpose of groceries. However, it should be noted that Market Day is a for-profit operation that is paying the schools a token amount of money for the privilege of disseminating its product in the school system by school personnel. I think it's time the school districts in the county look at how much time is spent with Market Day and the returns that are given. It's time we take a look at this activity by a for-profit organization who has manipulated the use of public school buildings for their business.

A challenge

I'm responding to the article on the board voting down the tree ordinance in Fox Lake. I'd like the trustees to elaborate on why they voted this down. As a taxpayer, I'm interested in finding out when they're up for reelection. I challenge them to become accountable for their actions.

I agree

I'm calling in response to the water bill that's too high. I live in Round Lake, work all day long, do two loads of laundry a week, and my water bill is over $100, too. Come on, Round Lake, let's get something going here!

Slow down

I'm calling about Bishop St. in Antioch, the back way through the neighborhood to the high school. Both school buses and cars go down this residential street at about 60 mph. There are a lot of small children living on this street and the police don't patrol it often enough. Please, drivers, slow down, or a child or dog will get hurt.

Don't be a fool

Here's some good news for you duck hunters who are looking for a free place to build your blind. Maybe you've noticed the huge blind that's built every year in the far west side of Cedar Lake, seen clearly from the Route 83 bridge. Not only does the kid put it there for free with no permit, he doesn't even have to remove it. The village of Lake Villa, the police, and the Dept. of Conservation won't do anything about it, I've called. Why be a fool and pay to build a duck blind when you can do it for free?

Pro Liberty

You stupid Democrats! I can't believe that any of you people in your right minds believe that Bill and Hillary had nothing to do with Whitewater, Vince Foster's death, and even Ron Brown's death. Pretty convenient, he was about to be indicted, but he's dead now. As for the Republicans, you guys are sad, too. Vote Libertarian!

Amazing!

How can any board of government be so inept as to dawdle over a simple tree ordinance for two years and not pass it over "courtesy?" No wonder the village looks as bad as it does if the village leaders can't act on something as simple as this. God help us, I hope Alberta Meyer isn't in line for another job in this village.

Fast buses

Those National school buses race down Pheasant Ridge Drive like they're on Rand Rd. I wonder if parents are aware of this, and that the police don't stop them at 8 a.m. How is it that they're allowed to speed? Plus, they're stinky and noisy.

Take own advice

In regard to the firing of the police chief of Wauconda by the mayor of Wauconda, I think he should practice what he preaches. Mainly, the mayor's condition on the third of July activities at the fireworks display. I think he'll know what I'm talking about.

Good job!

I'd like to congratulate all the little and big kids who played in the Avon Little League. It's my first year as a little league grandmother. They played like troopers and whether you won or lost, you did a good job and displayed sportsmanship.

You can have 'em

Three days of Democrats crying how bad it is and then Santa Claus rides in on a train, not a sleigh, telling us how great the country's doing. Which is it? And Al Gore's heart-wrenching speech about how tobacco killed his sister, but how about North Carolina in 1988 when he wanted tobacco farmer's votes, and proudly exclaimed how he planted, watered, and harvested the plants on his dad's plantation. Which is it? Also, Dick Gephardt's million-dollar mansion in North Carolina. He rents it out to avoid capital gains taxes; clearly tax fraud on a second home. You can have the Democrats.

Right to choose

I don't know about the rest of the country, but the people who live in District 116 whose schools have been under a crisis watch because of funding problems and overcrowding, should be screaming for school choice/school vouchers for a different system. We deserve the right to choose where our kids go.

Need statistics

I'd like Lakeland Newspapers to print a detailed outline of the amount of impact fees these various developers are paying to the schools, fire departments, police, libraries, etc. I'd like to know. Also, how much does it cost per pupil to send the kids to school in the various school districts?

Go to the mall

I'm responding to the Sept. 6 "Thumbs down" response. I want to know what's wrong with those people, the Fox Lake Theatre is the best thing that's happened to this area in years. If they're referring to the new "101 Dalmatians," it's a new movie that's coming out at Thanksgiving. I think it's wonderful if they cater to children, but they have many first-run movies for adults. If you don't like it, go to the mall or someplace else.

Campaign trail

Hey, Mayor Davis, the survey you sent out with the water bills for people to send out, is this a form of campaigning? If it is, why are the taxpayers paying for it and not you?

No friend

I was surprised to read in another paper that State Rep. Lachner has been misusing taxpayer dollars. I live in Lincolnshire and was upset with him when he decided to annex land out of our school district and put it into Conway Farms. I'd like to know when Lakeland is going to start reporting on the 30th state senate race and outlining the differences between Tom Lachner and Terry Link. I don't know much about Link, but from what I read in the paper, Lachner is no friend of taxpayers.

Getting gypped

I'm a member of the Forest Preserves golf course and they're packed with people. I have to stand in line an hour and a half for tee time sometimes. All these people are from Skokie, Arlington Heights and Evanston. The forest preserves has a "hot dog special" that allows these people from out of county to play for less than Lake County residents. Now, after Labor Day it's gone down to $20. What's the idea of making them play cheap and having us stand in line?

No negativity

I just want to say it kills me how Lipservice refuses to print anything negative about Grayslake or the current administration. What's going on, is the paper in the administration's pocket? Would you even dare to print this?

1/2 empty/full?

I absolutely cannot believe that the Wauconda officials have approved plans to build another shopping center. What are they planning to do with the centers they have that are almost empty now? Instead of building more centers, let's get the empty stores full. I hope the mayor will turn this down and he will personally work at filling these stores first before building more.

Get some brains

This is directed to the parents with no brains who live in Lakeview Hills subdivision in Ingleside. It's bad enough that the kids are allowed to drive electric cars, snowmobiles, etc. in the streets, but now they get to drive a golf cart night and day. Guess who's going to be at fault when we hit them with our cars? Wake up, people!

Thanks, Bonnie

A big thanks to Bonnie T. Carter for her help in trying to stop the snowmobile races and the pumping of water from Wooster Lake into Bruce Lake and Holiday Park.

Stop speeding

I don't know who these people are that speed down my street going 40 mph in a 20mph zone, but they should think about the fact that they might hit a child and change their lives forever.

Get on the ball

I live at the Estates of Eastlake in Grayslake and I'm calling in reference to the pond by Greyside Park. Grayslake Park District, why aren't you fixing the pond and making it a respectable place to look at? You have the money, why aren't you spending the funds that are allocated toward improving this area? Do the job you're paid to do and make the improvements. Get on the ball!

No permit?

Every day when I walk my dog, I go past the new restaurant on Route 12. I understand a village official owns it, but I don't understand why he doesn't have to have a permit visible to the public. When I did a project in my own home that no one could see, I had to show a permit. Does this only apply to Fox Lake residents that don't work for the village?

A prediction

I predict that within a few years, all baseball positions will be named after a sponsoring advertiser. Let's say home base is Bud Light; first base, Chrysler; second base, Pizza Hut, shortstop, Southwest Airlines, third base, Pepsi. It's coming, folks! Maybe it will give baseball some more color and excitement.

Focus on good

I just received my mail and an invitation for my son to attend the academic awards at Round Lake High School. I wonder why we can't concentrate on all the good things that happen at the high schools, instead of the bad. We need to concentrate on how wonderful and devoted these kids are to their schools.

Care about trees

How can anybody live in Fox Lake and not care about the trees? There's some beautiful, mature trees in the area and I can't believe that ordinance was shot down. Maybe Jim Pappas can't get that passed because other village board members have their own agenda.

Commendable

Grayslake coaches should be commended for their commitment to the athletes. Parents should be responsible for substance abuse problems with their children/athletes. You should clean the log out of your eyes before you can see the toothpick in our eyes.

All forgotten

In reference to the "Congrats, Mayor" article in Sept. 13, congrats to Mayor Davis for what? Too soon you forget that it was Carl Schimpf that pushed for and negotiated for the very fine, convenient train station. All the plans were made and preliminaries done by Schimpf. I doubt Davis would have enough brains on his own to come up with the plan.

I helped

This is to "On your own." The mayor of Round Lake Beach, Ralph Davis, did the newsletters on his own after 4 o'clock. I know, because I was helping him distribute newsletters.

Waste of money

I congratulate the Lake County Board on their stupidity of wasting $100,000 for a design of a new logo that any of the Pagemaker, Corel Draw, or advanced WordPerfect for desktop publishing classes at CLC could have done just as well. I'm sure the students would have tumbled over for an award of $5,000 and the other $95,000 could have gone for reducing our county deficit. I strongly urge Mr. Depke and the board to take a long look at the resources he has available.

Wrong!

Dole for president? Wrong! All Dole wants to do is make rich people richer and poor people poorer. Get a life and vote for Clinton.

Non-story

I'd like to comment on the Great America story. This is a non-story that's been brought up time and time again. I wish people would back off, the park has done a lot for Lake County. Second, I'd like to comment on the traffic on 94 from the Deerfield Toll Plaza up. Why do we only have three lanes? It's constantly backed up. It's a mess and something needs to be done.

Have a heart

Why are you picking on Mayor Hamsher? He only deals with the dead. About the abandoned hot dog boat, he's been calling casket companies to find a large enough casket to bury it in. And he's having a hard time finding a cemetery to bury it in, because they want to know what religion it is. Congratulations, mayor.

Superb job

I'd like to say that Ralph Davis, the mayor of Round Lake Beach, is doing a superb job with the village. I've never been more proud of the place where I live. If they'd come to your first Saturday of the month meetings, they'd know what a great guy you are.

Be fair

Why do we currently have a list published of the people who are arrested for DUIs, drugs, etc., but we don't have any listing of the current sex offenders living in our area? We have over 151 sex offenders currently living in Lake County, 19 of them live in the Round Lake area. I think it's a disgrace that you don't publish them. We need to do better for our children and protect them from these people. I get a list from the sheriff's office in Waukegan, published quarterly. Please address this issue.

In agreement

I agree with the caller who said that Jim Pappas would make a good mayor for Fox Lake. We need somebody new.

No morals

To all the clowns that believe that it's okay if Bill Clinton is a womanizer because Kennedy was, you're the problem with the morals in this country. It doesn't make sense and it's not okay. Bill Clinton is immoral and should not be elected.

We're fortunate

This is to "Overpaid." The village of Round Lake Beach is fortunate to have a mayor and village administrator who are concerned with only what's best for Round Lake Beach. They have the education and knowledge to provide quality leadership in our community. You get what you pay for. Previous administrations never had the foresight to see beyond their own political desires. Otherwise, our tax dollars wouldn't be tied up in TIF districts or going to the Grayslake school district.

Need competition

I'd like to say that the US Cable of Lake County service is bad. You call their auto line and you reach the customer service line instead. Then you're kept on hold an hour and a half to order a movie. If this is the kind of service they offer, I hope we can get some competition that would give them a run for their money.

You should talk

I'm from Antioch and have lived in Lake County for over six years, coming from Chicago. I'm responding to "Never sorry" published in the Sept. 13 Lipservice. How can a man who says he lived in Chicago have the audacity to complain about the Republican party as being corrupt. Chicago has been the most corrupt Democratically-controlled city in the country for the past 40 years. I think he should go back to Chicago if he really wants to know what corruption is all about.

Geo-Karis, Churchill featured at Lake County Power Breakfast

Adeline Geo-Karis

State Senator Adeline J. Geo-Karis and Illinois House Majority Leader Robert Churchill will address the Lake County Power Breakfast, Wednesday, Oct. 2 at Midlane Country Club in Wadsworth. Geo-Karis and Churchill will provide an update from the Illinois legislature in Springfield along with their views on the November elections.

"We're excited that Rep. Churchill and Senator Geo-Karis are available to address the Power Breakfast," commented an enthusiastic Lenny Khayat of Midlane Country Club.

"They have years of experience in Springfield and offer a unique insider's view of state politics. I'm sure many constituents are also interested in how they see the upcoming Presidential race."

The October Power Breakfast is a "must" for everyone interested in Lake County politics."

Geo-Karis, the first woman to serve in Illinois Senate leadership, has represented the 31st District since 1979. She has served Lake County in many capacities over the years, including a stint as Mayor of Zion (where she lives and where her private law is located) and as Village Attorney for Vernon Hills.

First elected to the state legislature in 1982, Churchill represents the 62nd legislative district. He was elected House Majority Leader in 1995 after terms as Minority Whip, Assistant Minority Leader and Deputy Minority Leader. Churchill resides in Lake Villa along with wife Sandra and their three children. The Lake County Power Breakfast is open to the public beginning at 7:30 a.m., Oct. 2. The Power Breakfast is taped for replay on US Cable Channel 3 where it can be seen at 7 p.m. Monday and Wednesday evenings throughout the month starting Oct. 7. Reservations are accepted at Midlane Country Club, 360-0550. For more information, contact Charles C. Isely, III, president/CEO of the Lake County Chamber of Commerce.

Capt. Whitehead keynote speaker

Gov. Edgar commends businesses for waste reduction

Gov. Jim Edgar commended 23 business and community organizations for their achievements in reducing hazardous waste and toxic air emissions into the environment.

The groups are winners in the 10th annual Governor's Pollution Prevention Awards competition. They include 16 businesses, three community groups, three schools and a trade organization.

"To put it simply, pollution prevention is good business," the governor said.

"These organizations stand out as leaders in their fields because of their ongoing commitment to the environment, their employees and their communities. Many have sustained pollution prevention programs over a period of several years while continually finding new ways to reduce waste."

The governor presented the awards in Springfield during a luncheon hosted by the Hazardous Waste Research and Information Center (HWRIC), a division of the Illinois Dept. of Natural Resources.

"The exceptional accomplishments by these organizations in reducing, reusing and recycling waste and improving air quality have enhanced our environment and made wise use of our natural resources," said DNR Director Brent Manning.

The majority of the award-winning organizations reported significant reductions in waste. The 23 organizations reported a combined savings of more than $1.1 million from reduced disposal costs and lower raw material costs last year. Their efforts prevented, 1,833 tons of hazardous and toxic waste from entering the environment.

Eleven of the 23 organizations are being honored for the first time.

They include: Ethyl Petroleum Additives Inc., Sauget; General Electric Co., Cicero; Madison County Transit District, Granite City; DuPage County Solid Waste Education Center, Carol Stream.

Raymond Marquith Elementary School, East Galesburg; St. Clair County Health Dept., Belleville; State Farm Insurance, Bloomington; Tenneco Packaging, Jacksonville; Baxter Healthcare, Inc., Drug Delivery Plant, Round Lake; Case Corp., East Moline Plant; and Highland Supply Corp., Highland.

Other repeat winners include: Northwestern Univ., Evanston; Streator Twp. High School; Central Illinois Light Co., Peoria; Honeywell's Micro Switch Div., Freeport; Commonwealth Edison Co., Chicago; Motorola, Inc., Schaumburg; Abbott Laboratories, Abbott Park; Harris Corp., Quincy; Navistar International Transportation Co., Melrose Park; and Hevi-Duty Electric, Mt. Vernon.

Award applicants were judged in statewide competition that was based on innovative strategies and use of alternative technologies to reduce the volume and toxicity of waste.

Judging criteria included technological innovation, environmental significance, economic benefits and commitment to pollution prevention.

For further information about the Governor's Pollution Prevention Awards or for technical assistance in reducing waste, contact the Hazardous Waste Research and Information Center in Champaign at (217)333-8940, TDD (800)526-0844.

At the 10th Annual Governor's Pollution Prevention Awards program, Gov. Jim Edgar (left) and Brent Manning from the Dept. of Natural Resources present a Continuous Improvement Award to Lance Wyatt (middle), vice president of corporate engineering at Abbott Laboratories. Abbott was recognized for its long-term commitment to the environment through pollution prevention programs. The governor commended Abbott for "looking beyond traditional treatment, control and disposal methods and focusing instead on reducing waste at the source."

Catholic Charities names new associate division manager

Mary Clare Jakes has been appointed associate division manager for Catholic Charities' Lake County Services by Most Reverend Edwin M. Conway, administrator of Catholic Charities of the Archdiocese of Chicago.

Jakes will work with local community groups, other social service agencies, Catholic parishes and other churches, Catholic Charities Lake County Board members and others to make Catholic Charities' services more accessible and responsive to the local communities in Lake County. She also will oversee the Fort Sheridan project, a conversion of that part of the decommissioned military base's housing awarded last year to Catholic Charities Lake County Services.

"I'm a community liaison," Jakes said, "the 'bridge' person advocating for the concerns of the people of this area."

Among its services to seniors, children and families last year,

Catholic Charities of Lake County served over 66,000 home-delivery meals to seniors; handled 125 cases of elder abuse; and helped over 12,000 families and individuals with basic needs of food, clothing, emergency and transitional shelter, and consumer credit counseling.

In addition, Catholic Charities conducts two highly successful "welfare to work" programs: The CARA and Self-Sufficiency Programs. Catholic Charities is the largest provider of foster care homes in Lake County, providing services to 312 children last year.

Prior to her Lake County appointment, Jakes established Catholic Charities' North Suburban Services office in Glenview, giving access to Catholic Charities' 200 programs to people in 13 suburbs along the North Shore and east of the Tri-State Tollway in Cook County.

For further information about Catholic Charities' Lake County programs, call 249-3500.

Remembering names good for business

It happens to me nearly every week. I see a face, usually a smiling face, but my mind simply will not recall the person's name. Thankfully, many folks introduce themselves quickly, thereby saving me the embarrassment of not remembering.

The memory experts call this "I can't remember your name, but I know your face: condition being 'eye-minded.'" It means that our brains are more likely to lock-in on what we see, than what we hear. However, understanding the problem won't in itself help you solve it.

I'm sure you agree that it is beneficial to remember names. After all, our names are our most prized possession. We like to hear it and we feel important when someone calls us by name. It is nice when someone remembers who we are.

Remembering names is good for business, great for advancing your career and also a wonderful beginning for building relationships. I've said before that I believe all business is personal. Using a person's name is certainly more personal than just saying "Hello" or "Hi there."

The real issue is how do we do it? How do we become more proficient at remembering peoples names?

How to remember

In doing the research for this column, I found that many authors have written articles and books on the subject. Here is the composite of their research and wisdom.

The first step in re-membering a name is to want to. When remembering a person's name is very important to you, you'll begin to concentrate your effort on it. This focus is critical because it clears your brain of obstacles to remembering.

The second step is to make sure you hear it correctly. Often during introductions we rush through the name exchange process and we really never get the other person's name.

If you lose a name quickly after an introduction, or didn't hear or understand the name in the first place, stop immediately and ask to hear it again. You can say something like this: "I'm sorry, but I've already forgotten your name." When the person replies, "Rick Lewis," immediately repeat the name and ask if Lewis is spelled L-e-w-i-s?

The key here is to get the name, know the name and know how to spell it. These are all little memory hooks to help you recall it later.

The third step is to use the person's name as frequently as you can. Introduce your new acquaintance to someone else. Ask questions to help reinforce the name.

For example, you might ask, "Rick, are you related to Mike Lewis who works at Ajax?" You've not only used the name again, but also found a possible memory link.

The fourth step is to try to establish one or more memory links. Your goal here is to tie the face and the name together. Since I often work with and meet business people, I try to establish a tie-in with their business.

For example, if I meet George Jones who is the trucking business, I try to picture Mr. Jones' face and name on the side of an 18-wheeler.

The key is to tie the name to facts, features or feats.

The fifth step is to get a business card or write the name down. You may find other useful information that will help you later. If I get a business card, I try to make notes on the back as soon as I can. This helps me remember the tie or link between the name and the face.

It's just like old what's his name said the other day...Well, frankly I forgot what he said, but I'll share it with you when I remember it.

Editor's note: Don Taylor is the co-author of "Up Against the Wal-Marts."

Woman executive named Governor of Northern Illinois Rotary District

Karen Kline

Karen L. Kline, a Chicago business owner and resident of Wilmette, has been named Governor of Rotary International's District 6440, comprising 69 Rotary Clubs in Northeastern Illinois, for the coming year.

Kline has succeeded Mimi Altman of Bannockburn as the leader of some 3,100 Rotarians in Northern Cook, Lake and DuPage Counties and is the second woman executive to serve in that position. Her term of office is for one year until June 30, 1997.

A member of Rotary International for the past nine years, Kline is among a group of rising women leaders in the worldwide civic and service organization which, until a few years ago, was composed largely of business and professional men.

She was a founder and the first President of the Wilmette Harbor Rotary Club when it was started six years ago with 65 members. With her husband, Jim, she is the owner of Accent Chicago, Inc., a six-store chain of gift stores which feature distinctive Chicago theme merchandise and gifts. The stores are located in prominent downtown Chicago buildings and in Evanston.

Kline's first introduction to Rotary International dates to 1962 when she won a Rotary Foundation Ambassadorial Scholarship for a year's study in Denmark. She has since helped to organize an alumni group of the hundreds of other Rotary Ambassadorial Scholarship winners who have attended universities throughout the world during the past 50 years.

Founded in Chicago in the early 1900s by businessman Paul Harris, Rotary International now consists of 28,200 local clubs in 154 countries, with a membership of just under 1,200,000 managers and owners of businesses and professional occupations. Its world headquarters is located in downtown Evanston.

"In Northeastern Illinois, our 69 clubs concentrate on helping to solve community needs and problems in our respective towns as well as in the Greater Chicago area," says Kline.

"But since we are a worldwide organization, our club members are also engaged in building relationships with clubs in many foreign countries, both to foster better international cooperation and to assist with the ever growing crises and needs in the developing countries."

Kline says that many of the clubs in her district also participate in providing home stays in their towns for young people from all over the world and in sending young Americans to foreign countries for cultural learning and university and professional studies.

"You might say that Rotary has its own built-in system for doing community service at home and also for improving international collaboration on a personal and day-to-day basis," Kline said.

WHEEL DEALS

Lakeland Newspapers

—Ask Don Garlits—

Taking new vehicles for long drive helps break-in process

Q. We have a 1988 Oldsmobile that we have pampered, but I cannot stop oil from getting into my air cleaner pan. It seems to be coming from the breather tube. I checked the PCV valve and it's OK. I added "motor honey," but that didn't seem to help. What's my next step?—Dick L.

A. Your Oldsmobile is probably in need of intake valve seals or rings. As an engine racks up the miles, rings wear out, but more importantly, the valve seals get hard and no longer perform their intended function. I would recommend an engine rebuild to include rings, bearings and valve job. You should get many more miles or years of service from your vehicle.

Q. We recently purchased a new Dodge Caravan from the dealer. In the past six months, we have put over 15,000 miles on it. We have noticed an excessive amount of oil usage in this vehicle despite the filter and oil being changed every 3,000 miles. Initially, we had to add one quart every 1,000 miles, but now we are adding that amount every 700 to 800 miles. It has been back to the dealer several times and they cannot find any source of leakage. Ultimately, we were told it must "simply be using that amount," which seems to be in the range or normal for this equipment. Normal or not, a new vehicle in our opinion should not be burning that amount from average commuting and everyday use. What do you think?—Bill B.

A. Your vehicle is clearly using an excessive amount of oil. I wouldn't stand still for the response that the dealer is giving you! The factory representatives need to be brought in on this one. I have three new Chrysler vehicles that use absolutely no oil in sometimes as many as 3,000 miles. All vehicles are going to use a little for several thousand miles, until the rings seal. This will occur at different intervals, depending on the driving habits of the operator.

For example, sustained highway speeds tend to break in a new engine better. That's why I feel, when you buy a new car, you ought to take a nice little trip to visit family and friends. Not only are you showing off your new wheels, you're also helping to break it in better!

Q. I have a 1986 Chevy van, of which I am the principal driver. In the last few months, we've noticed that, on the highway, it jumps or vibrates when we start up an incline. This usually happens at speeds of 35 to 55 mph, when it's in drive. I have put it in "3" (which the manual says is for in-town driving) and it doesn't hesitate at all. Could it be the overdrive is not working properly? We have 123,000 miles on it and have not had any major repairs. We have replaced the fuel filter, the plugs, and had the catalytic converter checked. Even the transmission fluid and filter have been changed. We will be looking for your advice.—Bonnie M.

A. When you're going up hills, I believe it is a good idea to shift to your "3" setting so the vehicle won't go into overdrive. The shift depends on engine vacuum; any deviation of the throttle pedal will cause the overdrive to shift in or out. When you shift out of overdrive into the next gear down (in many vehicles it is just a "D"), this situation is avoided. It can be annoying, but you will prevent the jerking and pulling in this speed range. I'm sure this is what you're experiencing, though it is possible there is some mechanical problem I am not able to diagnose from the information given.

How long should a muffler last?

Have you had a muffler and tail pipe replaced lately? It can be an expensive proposition on some vehicles. That's the bad news. The good news is that a quality muffler can last well into the next century!

Moisture was the traditional enemy of exhaust system parts. Especially on vehicles subjected to short trips, stop-and-go driving, condensation would accumulate inside the muffler and cause rusting from the inside out.

Most new cars now have aluminized steel exhaust pipes which have a life expectancy of about six years, depending on the environment and driving conditions. Figure about half that life where road salt and moisture prevail.

Stainless steel generally is accepted as the best muffler material, although double-sided galvanized steel is a more economical alternative. Aluminized steel is another alternative to the plain steel muffler.

Clamps and hangers, or brackets, sometimes fail while pipes and muffler still are in good condition.

This can allow perfectly good parts to fall off the car onto the side of the road. A new exhaust system generally should include new support hardware.

How To Survive The Job Search

By Nancy Sakol

Q: Dear...Search: I am writing in regard to a conversation I was involved in a few weeks back. An acquaintance was describing an incident that had caught her as she put it, "off guard". She had applied for a position as a general office clerk. Her qualifications were as she put it, "up to par". While she was currently employed with another company in the same industry, the idea of taking a job closer to home appealed to her and made her want the job all the more. During her first interview the company was impressed with her ability to deal with difficult people, and at the end of the two hour interview, the potential employer asked if she had anything else to add other than what appeared on her resume and application. She said that she would appreciate it if they would not contact her current employer as she did not want to let on that she was looking for a new job. At that point the company stated that they would be checking references. It came to be known within the first 15 minutes of reference checking that this person did not graduate from the High School for which she stated. In fact, it was found that there was no High School diploma from any school nor was there an equivalency test. The company was let down by the thought of thinking they had found the right person only to have found her honesty to be questionable. In questioning the references they were given by this person, it was found that although she stated that she was currently employed with a specific employer, a reference stated that she had not been employed there for a very long time. The employer called her on these discrepancies in her information for which the person became irate, by using four letter words followed by three letter words and resembling nothing short of a Jekyll & Hyde routine. "How dare they check my current employer?" she was overheard to say. I chuckled at the thought of how she reacted to something that she herself caused. It wasn't until she started to rant and rave about how she was going to call the Better Business Bureau on the company and tell all her friends not to work for that company, that I finally stuck my piece of mind in on the deal. What is wrong with this picture? Every application I have filled out in my time asks for a signature which states something like...to the best of my knowledge, all the information is true and correct. She said she signed it and I asked her what do you think that was for...your autograph?!!??!! It is a document...binding...and legal. People check references. Those who don't, open themselves up for trouble right from the start. Do you agree? Thanks for listening. F.R. - Grumee.

A: Dear F.R.: Right you are! Had the person been honest in the beginning, they would have stood a much better chance of landing the job than for the company to have found it out in the long run and destroyed her credibility. She seems to have done that all on her own. Thanks for writing!

PUBLIC NOTICE FEDERAL EMERGENCY MANAGEMENT AGENCY FEDERAL INSURANCE ADMINISTRATION

Proposed Flood Elevation Determinations for the Village of Long Grove, Lake County, Illinois
AGENCY: Federal Emergency Management Agency
ACTION: Proposed rule.
SUMMARY: Technical information or comments are solicited on the proposed modified base (1% annual chance) flood elevations shown on your community's preliminary Revised Flood Insurance Rate Map (FIRM). These base flood elevations are the basis for the floodplain management measures that the community is required to either adopt or show evidence of being already in effect in order to qualify or remain qualified for participation in the National Flood Insurance Program (NFIP). The proposed base flood elevations modify the base flood elevations shown on your community's presently effective FIRM.

DATES: The period for comment will be ninety (90) days following the second publication of this proposed rule in a newspaper of local circulation in the community.

ADDRESSES: Preliminary FIRMs showing the proposed modified base flood elevations and their delineation are available for review at the Village of Long Grove Municipal Building, 3110 Old McHenry Road, Long Grove, Illinois 60047.

Send comments to:

Ms. Lenore Simmons
Long Grove Village President
3110 RFD
Long Grove, Illinois 60047

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT:

Michael K. Buckley, P.E., Chief
Hazard Identification Branch
Mitigation Directorate
Federal Emergency Management Agency
Washington, DC 20472
(202) 646-2766

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: The Federal Emergency Management Agency gives notice of the proposed determinations of modified base flood elevations, in accordance with Section 110 of the Flood Disaster Protection Act of 1973 (Pub. L. 93-234), 87 Stat. 980, which added Section 1363 to the National Flood Insurance Act of 1968 (Title XIII of the Housing and Urban Development Act of 1968 (Pub. L. 90-448)), 42 U.S.C. 4001-4128, and 44 CFR 67.4(a).

These elevations, together with the floodplain management measures required by Section 60.3 of the program regulations, are the minimum that are required. They should not be construed to mean the community must change any existing ordinances that are more stringent in their floodplain management requirements. The community may at any time enact stricter requirements on its own, or pursuant to policies established by other Federal, State, or regional entities. These proposed elevations will also be used to calculate the appropriate flood insurance premium rates for new buildings and their contents.

Pursuant to the provisions of 5 USC 605(b), the Administrator, to whom authority has been delegated by the Director, Federal Emergency Management Agency, hereby certifies that the proposed flood elevation determinations, if promulgated, will not have a significant economic impact on a substantial number of small entities. A flood elevation determination under Section 1363 forms the basis for new local ordinances, which, if adopted by a local community, will govern future construction within the floodplain area. The elevation determinations, however, impose no restriction unless and until the local community voluntarily adopts floodplain ordinances in accord with these elevations. Even if ordinances are adopted in compliance with Federal standard, the elevations prescribe how high to build a floodplain and do not prohibit development. Thus, this action only forms the basis for future local actions. It imposes no new requirement; of itself it has no economic impact.

Proposed base flood elevations along flood sources studied in detail are shown on the Preliminary FIRM. Lessees and owners of real property in the Village of Long Grove, Lake County, Illinois, are encouraged to review these maps and related materials at the address cited above. The flood sources studied in detail are:

Orange Pumpkin Soup

Preparation time, 15 minutes; cooking time, 25 minutes.

2 Tbls. butter
1/2 onion, chopped
14-oz. (410 g) can of pumpkin
4 cups chicken stock
1 cup orange juice
1/2 cup heavy cream
1 tsp. pepper
orange slices

In a heavy pan, melt the butter and gently fry the onion until golden. Add the pumpkin and stock, bring to a boil and simmer for 10 minutes, stirring occasionally. Blend the mixture in a blender for a few seconds then return it to the pan.

Stir in the orange juice, cream and pepper. Gently reheat but do not boil. Serve with an orange slice floated on top. Serves 5-6.

It is interesting to note that, weight for weight, pumpkin contains as much Vitamin A as spinach.
